LBJ, Folksy Politician, Wows 'Em in New Jersey

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — "I can't make you another speech," President Johnson apologized — after addressing much the same New Jersey crowd for the fourth time. "I've got to go all the way down to Texas."

With that, Johnson left a goggling campaign audience in Newark, N.J., Friday and set out for his LBJ Ranch, with a brief stop in Washington to pick up Mrs. Johnson.

The New Jersey appearance marked Johnson's first political outing in a month.

Speaking in a small park in the center of the state's largest city, with brick and concrete buildings and asphalt all about,

Johnson startled his listeners by announcing it felt good to get out into "the fresh green country and see all these happy, smiling faces."

Folksy references like this — and claims that the Democrats have brought wage earners more money "for Molly and the baby" — punctuated what was by all odds the most partisan speech Johnson has delivered since 1964.

For openers, the President asserted that the Republicans haven't had a new idea in 80 years.

He wound up by saying: "You scratch your head and say to mama, 'Let's take a look at the record,' and then get on that bus and go down to the polling place and pull that lever that will do the greatest good for the greatest number."

No one got the impression he was talking about the Republican lever.

Then Johnson got into his car, and after proceeding a few yards, hopped out with portable microphone in hand to thank the departing crowd for turning out. He did that four times before apologizing that he had to go to Texas.

The White House said the President decided to spend the weekend at the ranch after learning of the death of Percy T. Brigham, a retired banker in his 80s who loaned Johnson money to go to college and later helped him buy the land which became the LBJ Ranch.

The Johnsons were to attend funeral services for Brigham today in Blanco, some 30 miles from the ranch.

In Newark, an enthusiastic Johnson turned a 20-minute prepared speech into 51 minutes of country preacher-style oratory. There were all kinds of off-the-cuff flourishes, but none that drew warmer applause than when he invoked the memory of John F. Kennedy.

Johnson said that, just when Kennedy was making progress with his legislative program, "the good Lord took him from us."

He added: "But it (the assassination) didn't take his program away and I've stood there and I've put it over. And I didn't run out on it — I ran in on it."

Discussing administration measures which he said would help the people, the chief executive volunteered a special lesson.

That's spelled "p-e-e-p-u-l," he remarked, then shouted: "You know what I'm talking about! I'm talking about folks!"

Almost lost in the verbal shuffle was the main argument of the President's speech:

"The Republicans remember that they have always been elected by scaring people. Their platform this year is made up of one word: fear."

"They have no constructive programs to fight inflation. They mention no program to ease racial tensions. They don't know what to do about crime in the streets, except to criticize it. They don't know how to end the war in Viet Nam, except to criticize the commander-in-chief. But they do know that if they can scare people, they may win a few votes."

Inez Catches 44 Refugees Fleeing Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — An intensive search was under way today for 44 Cuban refugees who crammed aboard a small boat and eluded Fidel Castro's border patrol only to be caught by Hurricane Inez.

"One by one, they slipped away," said Enrique Gonzalez, apparently the only survivor. "I thought I could beat the hurricane, but we lost the race."

Gonzalez, 32, and Jorge Garcia were picked up by a British freighter east of Miami Friday after they had clung to a small raft for four days. Garcia died a short time later in a hospital at Homestead Air Force Base.

Gonzalez, skipper of the 24-foot La Esperanza, said the craft — with the refugees, including eight children and two women, crammed aboard — sank Monday in the Florida Straits about 35 miles west of Key West.

Coast Guard aircraft combed the seas but were unable to spot any other survivors or bodies. The search continued today with aircraft and eight ships.

Gonzalez, who had made seven previous trips carrying refugees from Cuba, was weak and thirsty from his four-day ordeal but otherwise in good condition. He told his grim story after a Coast Guard helicopter took him from the freighter Nicholas Bowater to Miami.

He said La Esperanza departed Monday from Pinar Del Rio, in western Cuba.

Colorado U Will Check UFO Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force announced Friday the University of Colorado has been chosen to undertake independent investigations of reports on unidentified flying objects.

Air Force Secretary Harold Brown said the university is being awarded a research agreement of about $300,000 "to analyze phenomena associated with UFO sightings."

The university, located at Boulder, Colo., will also make recommendations on the Air Force's methods of investigation and evaluating flying saucer reports, a program now known as Project Blue Book, dating to 1948.

The university, in turn, will select several other universities to assist in the research. The Air Force said the number of scientists and consultants involved in the effort will total more than 100.

There were pressures last spring for a congressional investigation of UFOs after a flurry of reported sightings of mysterious objects.

House Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan had called for a congressional study of the matter, and later Air Force officials promised that a scientific panel of civilians would be given the opportunity to make an independent investigation.

The Air Force said it expects the university to submit a report on its findings in early 1968.

Since 1948 the Air Force has received about 11,000 reports of UFO sightings. Of these, the Air Force says, it has been able to identify or otherwise explain the nature of all but 655.

Girl Panda Snuggles Up To An-An, Nibbles Ear

MOSCOW (AP) — Giant Panda Chi-Chi and An-An spent their first night together Friday night but did not mate, zoo officials reported today.

But Chi-Chi, the London Zoo's girl panda, did nibble on the ears of An-An, Moscow's boy panda, causing Dr. Desmond Morris, curator of mammals at London Zoo to exclaim this represented "a great step forward."

He said it showed a new willingness on Chi-Chi's part after playing hard to get in earlier encounters in April. Since then they had been in separate cages until Friday.

He said the two would be put together in the same cage for five more nights. The Pandas,

Bellwether Areas Noted

Ohio's Moeller Reported Behind

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six widely scattered House districts will be watched closely by political analysts on election night for clues to the voting trend across the country.

All have been accurate as electoral indicators over the past decade, reflecting the swings that have seen Democratic strength in the House fluctuate between 234 representatives in 1956 and 295 in 1964.

The House is considered a key battleground in the Nov. 8 election with the results likely to determine whether President Johnson maintains a working majority for his domestic program.

Republicans need to gain 78 seats to win numerical control. But a gain of fewer than 30 would put them in position to combine with Southern Democratic critics of the administration to block key bills as they often were able to do before 1964.

The six bellwether districts, all now represented by freshmen Democrats, are the Connecticut 4th, Indiana 9th, Iowa 4th, Ohio 10th, Pennsylvania 19th and Wisconsin 1st.

A recent Associated Press survey of freshmen Democratic prospects produced a mixed picture in the bellwether districts, with two Democrats reported ahead, two considered behind and two about even with their GOP opponents.

Reported leading their GOP opponents were Reps. Lee H. Hamilton, whose southern Indiana district has been redistricted somewhat to his advantage since 1964, and Bert A. Bandstra, who is seeking a return victory in south central Iowa against former Rep. John R. Kyl.

Reported behind were Reps. Walter H. Moeller of Ohio, who served two earlier terms before his defeat in 1962, and Donald J. Irwin of Connecticut, whose Fairfield County district has sent him and Republican Abner W. Sibal to Washington for two terms each in the past eight years.

The two districts in which the candidates appear even are reported (Continued on Page 8)

19 Canadian Youths Die

DORION, Que. (AP) — Canadian National Railways officials began investigating today a school bus-train collision that killed 19 youths and injured 24.

The victims, most of them teenagers, were en route to a dance when the collision occurred Friday night at Dorion, about 15 miles west of Montreal.

Among the dead was the driver, Marcel Fleury, 19, son of Florian Fleury, owner of a fleet of six buses.

"I don't know how it happened," said the elder Fleury today. "He was a very, very good driver—very prudent."

semi-nocturnal animals whose ardor is best at night, will be separated during the day, he said.

Describing the ear-biting attempt, which came about dawn, Morris said that despite the love play the mating "did not go through to final success."

An-An's inexperience was apparently to blame. In his nine years of giant panda life he had never before had a chance to get to know the opposite sex.

Chi-Chi must return home to the London Zoo after the five nights, Morris said, because her human fans miss her.

Zoo experts are anxious for a mating because no Giant Panda has ever been born in captivity outside mainland China, their homeland.

Senators Like Europe Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal for a gradual and balanced reduction of armed forces in Europe and an easing of East-West trade restrictions received guarded bipartisan approval from several senators today.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, sponsor of a resolution to put the Senate on record as favoring substantial withdrawal of U.S. forces from Europe, said the President had offered "a worthwhile suggestion and I hope the Russians will respond in similar fashion."

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, assistant Republican leader, said in a separate interview he was pleased with the "unpartisan" approach Johnson had taken in outlining a broad program to improve East-West relations in a New York speech Friday.

"I have no doubt Republicans will generally approve any reductions in our forces that can be accomplished without weakening the defenses of Western Europe," he said. "The matter of easing trade restraints with the Communists is, of course, more controversial."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he favors reducing the U.S. troop commitment "regardless of what the Russians do."

"With the modern development of weapons and advances that have been made in waging war it is not essential to leave all of our forces in Europe, so long as we have sufficient troops there to fulfill our defense commitments," he said.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he wants Johnson's suggestions spelled out before he takes a position.

"If the number of American troops can be reduced without endangering the free world's defense position in Europe, I would favor it," he said.

But Hickenlooper said he wouldn't trust the Soviets to carry out any agreement or understanding for reciprocal force reductions in East Germany.

"I look forward to trading more with the East," he said. "I think the more we can open trade, the less the tensions will be. But I don't think we ought to be trading, just to be trading, with people who keep on saying they want to destroy us."

Other headline speakers include Republican National Chairman Ray C. Bliss of Akron, John S. Andrews of Toledo and GOP State Senate leader Theodore M. Gray of Piqua.

Major business of the convention is adoption by delegates of a "broadlybased" platform on which Rhodes and other party nominees will stand for election Nov. 8.

Gray presided at an open hearing by platform drafters Friday at which witnesses urged strong planks on education, highway safety, air and water pollution abatement and other subjects on which Democrats have attacked the state administration for asserted inadequacy. Plane Crash Lands On Track Airfield

U.S. Strikes West Sector

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Waves of U.S. B52 bombers hammered North Vietnamese infiltration routes and bivouac areas in the embattled demilitarized zone today.

In their 14th raid since the giant bombers began hitting inside the buffer zone, the eight-engine planes unloaded tons of explosives on the zone's western sector.

The U.S. Military Command said the bombers straddled the demarcation line which runs east-west across the center of the six-mile-wide zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Just south of the zone, U.S. Marines pushing through mountainous jungle terrain encountered only light contact as they continued Operation Prairie in an effort to halt the southward infiltration of the North Vietnamese 324B Division.

The Marines reported their enemy death toll nearing the 1,000 mark. They took only four prisoners since they began the operation Aug. 3.

The Marines claimed 992 North Vietnamese killed. The Leathernecks themselves took considerable losses, officially listing their own casualties as moderate, meaning they were hard hit.

Inside the demilitarized zone itself, there was no letup in air strikes. Before the B52 bombers flew in from Guam, U.S. B57 Canberras and other tactical bombers pounded the zone with seven strike missions of several planes each Friday.

U.S. and South Vietnamese planes stopped bombing a 24-square-mile sector of the eastern side of the zone 11 days ago to permit members of the International Control Commission to investigate alleged charges that the North Vietnamese were infiltrating through the officially neutral zone.

Ground fighting in South Viet Nam tapered off generally to light contacts.

However, troops of the South Korean Tiger Division reported killing 44 more Communists Friday and captured an additional 20 on their southern sector of the three-sided allied drive along the central coast.

In the air offensive against North Viet Nam, U.S. pilots flew through heavy antiaircraft fire and rainstorms to hit oil storage areas, coastal barge traffic and transportation facilities in 99 missions.

Bobby Kennedy Aids Ohio Dems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democratic party wheels looked tonight for a turnout of 2,500 at the State Fairgrounds dinner for $50-a-plate contributors and featuring Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York as speaker.

The fund-raising extravaganza thus was calculated to pour a six-figure sum into the Democratic coffers to help finance the party's stretch run for the Nov. 8 election.

State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., who heads the underdog state ticket as gubernatorial opponent of re-election favorite Gov. James A. Rhodes, is slated to introduce Kennedy.

Health Facilities Needed in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio needs nearly 5,000 more general hospital beds for acute illness, 6,500 additional nursing home beds for long-term care and modernization of 23,000 existing beds, reports the state health director.

Dr. E. W. Arnold issued the figures from Ohio's new plan for hospital and medical facilities construction in announcing Friday that a public hearing on the program will be held here Nov. 9.

The plan is used to set up priorities for the distribution of federal Hill-Burton funds, from which 19 previous years of participation Ohio has received nearly $111 million.

Workers Put On Overtime

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. workers who struck the company this week were put on overtime schedules today to supply vital body stampings to the firm's seven idled assembly plants.

The 4,200 production workers at Chrysler's stamping plant in Twinsburg, Ohio, were scheduled to work today and Sunday.

The employees, members of the United Auto Workers, ended a seven-day strike and returned to work Friday after approving a negotiated settlement with Chrysler on 14 grievances involving plant safety, production standards and cafeteria food.

Chrysler said it hoped to have enough sheet metal body stampings available to put more than 38,000 workers back on the job Monday at the seven assembly plants.

Draft Violators Indicted by Jury

CLEVELAND (AP) — A U.S. attorney says the 20 men indicted Friday on charges of violating the Selective Service laws is the largest number of such indictments returned at one time by a federal grand jury in the past 15 years.

Sixteen of those indicted were conscientious objectors who refused to go into government service in hospitals. The other four allegedly failed to report for induction.

U.S. Attorney James L. Oaker said all those indicted had been given every opportunity to live up to the requirements of the law.

"One by one, they slipped away," said Enrique Gonzalez, apparently the only survivor. "I thought I could beat the hurricane, but we lost the race."

Gonzalez, 32, and Jorge Garcia were picked up by a British freighter east of Miami Friday after they had clung to a small raft for four days. Garcia died a short time later in a hospital at Homestead Air Force Base.

Gonzalez, skipper of the 24-foot La Esperanza, said the craft — with the refugees, including eight children and two women, crammed aboard — sank Monday in the Florida Straits about 35 miles west of Key West.

Coast Guard aircraft combed the seas but were unable to spot any other survivors or bodies. The search continued today with aircraft and eight ships.

Gonzalez, who had made seven previous trips carrying refugees from Cuba, was weak and thirsty from his four-day ordeal but otherwise in good condition. He told his grim story after a Coast Guard helicopter took him from the freighter Nicholas Bower to Miami.

He said La Esperanza departed Monday from Pinar Del Rio, in western Cuba.

Colorado U Will Check UFO Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force announced Friday the University of Colorado has been chosen to undertake independent investigations of reports on unidentified flying objects.

Air Force Secretary Harold Brown said the university is being awarded a research agreement of about $300,000 "to analyze phenomena associated with UFO sightings."

The university, located at Boulder, Colo., will also make recommendations on the Air Force's methods of investigation and evaluating flying saucer reports, a program now known as Project Blue Book, dating to 1948.

The university, in turn, will select several other universities to assist in the research. The Air Force said the number of scientists and consultants involved in the effort will total more than 100.

There were pressures last spring for a congressional investigation of UFOs after a flurry of reported sightings of mysterious objects.

House Republican Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan had called for a congressional study of the matter, and later Air Force officials promised that a scientific panel of civilians would be given the opportunity to make an independent investigation.

The Air Force said it expects the university to submit a report on its findings in early 1968.

Since 1948 the Air Force has received about 11,000 reports of UFO sightings. Of these, the Air Force says, it has been able to identify or otherwise explain the nature of all but 655.

Girl Panda Snuggles Up To An-An, Nibbles Ear

MOSCOW (AP) — Giant Panda Chi-Chi and An-An spent their first night together Friday night but did not mate, zoo officials reported today.

But Chi-Chi, the London Zoo's girl panda, did nibble on the ears of An-An, Moscow's boy panda, causing Dr. Desmond Morris, curator of mammals at London Zoo to exclaim this represented "a great step forward."

He said it showed a new willingness on Chi-Chi's part after playing hard to get in earlier encounters in April. Since then they had been in separate cages until Friday.

He said the two would be put together in the same cage for five more nights. The Pandas,

Bellwether Areas Noted

Ohio's Moeller Reported Behind

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six widely scattered House districts will be watched closely by political analysts on election night for clues to the voting trend across the country.

All have been accurate as electoral indicators over the past decade, reflecting the swings that have seen Democratic strength in the House fluctuate between 234 representatives in 1956 and 295 in 1964.

The House is considered a key battleground in the Nov. 8 election with the results likely to determine whether President Johnson maintains a working majority for his domestic program.

Republicans need to gain 78 seats to win numerical control. But a gain of fewer than 30 would put them in position to combine with Southern Democratic critics of the administration to block key bills as they often were able to do before 1964.

The six bellwether districts, all now represented by freshmen Democrats, are the Connecticut 4th, Indiana 9th, Iowa 4th, Ohio 10th, Pennsylvania 19th and Wisconsin 1st.

A recent Associated Press survey of freshmen Democratic prospects produced a mixed picture in the bellwether districts, with two Democrats reported ahead, two considered behind and two about even with their GOP opponents.

Reported leading their GOP opponents were Reps. Lee H. Hamilton, whose southern Indiana district has been redistricted somewhat to his advantage since 1964, and Bert A. Bandstra, who is seeking a return victory in south central Iowa against former Rep. John R. Kyl.

Reported behind were Reps. Walter H. Moeller of Ohio, who served two earlier terms before his defeat in 1962, and Donald J. Irwin of Connecticut, whose Fairfield County district has sent him and Republican Abner W. Sibal to Washington for two terms each in the past eight years.

The two districts in which the candidates appear even are reported

19 Canadian Youths Die

DORION, Que. (AP) — Canadian National Railways officials began investigating today a school bus-train collision that killed 19 youths and injured 24.

The victims, most of them teenagers, were en route to a dance when the collision occurred Friday night at Dorion, about 15 miles west of Montreal.

Among the dead was the driver, Marcel Fleury, 19, son of Florian Fleury, owner of a fleet of six buses.

"I don't know how it happened," said the elder Fleury today. "He was a very, very good driver—very prudent."

Senators Like Europe Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposal for a gradual and balanced reduction of armed forces in Europe and an easing of East-West trade restrictions received guarded bipartisan approval from several senators today.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, sponsor of a resolution to put the Senate on record as favoring substantial withdrawal of U.S. forces from Europe, said the President had offered "a worthwhile suggestion and I hope the Russians will respond in similar fashion."

Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, assistant Republican leader, said in a separate interview he was pleased with the "unpartisan" approach Johnson had taken in outlining a broad program to improve East-West relations in a New York speech Friday.

"I have no doubt Republicans will generally approve any reductions in our forces that can be accomplished without weakening the defenses of Western Europe," he said. "The matter of easing trade restraints with the Communists is, of course, more controversial."

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he favors reducing the U.S. troop commitment "regardless of what the Russians do."

"With the modern development of weapons and advances that have been made in waging war it is not essential to leave all of our forces in Europe, so long as we have sufficient troops there to fulfill our defense commitments," he said.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he wants Johnson's suggestions spelled out before he takes a position.

"If the number of American troops can be reduced without endangering the free world's defense position in Europe, I would favor it," he said.

But Hickenlooper said he wouldn't trust the Soviets to carry out any agreement or understanding for reciprocal force reductions in East Germany.

"I look forward to trading more with the East," he said. "I think the more we can open trade, the less the tensions will be. But I don't think we ought to be trading, just to be trading, with people who keep on saying they want to destroy us."

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is expected to have some preliminary information on his government's reaction to Johnson's suggestions when he calls on the White House on Monday.

U.S. officials warned it would be naive to expect the Soviets to announce any cutback in their troops.

They said there is no decision yet on a Western cutback, only agreement to carry out a searching reappraisal of what is needed in troops to defend Europe.

Plane Crash Lands On Track Airfield

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A light plane smashed through a fence Friday on landing at an airfield on Beulah Park race track property in nearby Grove City, but the two occupants escaped injury. They were pilot Martin Lee Tuttle of Stuart, Fla., and passenger William Walker, Louisville, Ky.

U.S. Strikes West Sector

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Waves of U.S. B52 bombers hammered North Vietnamese infiltration routes and bivouac areas in the embattled demilitarized zone today.

In their 14th raid since the giant bombers began hitting inside the buffer zone, the eight-engine planes unloaded tons of explosives on the zone's western sector.

The U.S. Military Command said the bombers straddled the demarcation line which runs east-west across the center of the six-mile-wide zone between North and South Viet Nam.

Just south of the zone, U.S. Marines pushing through mountainous jungle terrain encountered only light contact as they continued Operation Prairie in an effort to halt the southward infiltration of the North Vietnamese 324B Division.

The Marines reported their enemy death toll nearing the 1,000 mark. They took only four prisoners since they began the operation Aug. 3.

The Marines claimed 992 North Vietnamese killed. The Leathernecks themselves took considerable losses, officially listing their own casualties as moderate, meaning they were hard hit.

Inside the demilitarized zone itself, there was no letup in air strikes. Before the B52 bombers flew in from Guam, U.S. B-57 Canberras and other tactical bombers pounded the zone with seven strike missions of several planes each Friday.

U.S. and South Vietnamese planes stopped bombing a 24-square-mile sector of the eastern side of the zone 11 days ago to permit members of the International Control Commission to investigate allied charges that the North Vietnamese were infiltrating through the officially neutral zone.

Ground fighting in South Viet Nam tapered off generally to light contacts.

However, troops of the South Korean Tiger Division reported killing 44 more Communists Friday and captured an additional 20 on their southern sector of the three-sided allied drive along the central coast.

In the air offensive against North Viet Nam, U.S. pilots flew through heavy antiaircraft fire and rainstorms to hit oil storage areas, coastal barge traffic and transportation facilities in 99 missions.

The raids cost one plane, an Air Force F4 Phantom with a

Bobby Kennedy Aids Ohio Dems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democratic party wheels looked tonight for a turnout of 2,500 at the State Fairgrounds dinner for $50-a-plate contributors and featuring Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York as speaker.

The fund-raising extravaganza was calculated to pour a six-figure sum into the Democratic coffers to help finance the state's stretch run for the Nov. 8 election.

State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr., who heads the underdog state ticket as gubernatorial opponent of re-election favorite Gov. James A. Rhodes, is slated to introduce Kennedy.

The Toledoan earlier would join Columbus Mayor M. E. Senenbrenner, Franklin County congressional candidates Robert N. Shamansky and Robert L. Van Heyde and other state and local candidates in greeting Kennedy at Port Columbus airport (4 p.m. EST).

The New York senator was expected to be accompanied by a press corps of 25, along with U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, and former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Conspicuous by his absence will be Democratic Sen. Frank J. Lausche, former multimember governor who said he had other fish to fry.

Lausche, more and more regarded a political maverick by the organization, will be one of the few party bigwigs absent, however, as the Democrats try to steal some of the play from today's Republican State Convention.

Ohio Shares Pork Barrel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio projects included in the public works appropriation bill passed in the Senate Friday and their cost include:

Ashtabula Harbor 200,000; Belleville locks and dam, Ohio and West Virginia, $1,400,000; Big Darby Creek reservoir, $1.9 million; Buck Creek reservoir, Clark County, $1.7 million; Caesar Creek reservoir in Clinton, Green and Warren counties, $45,000; Cleveland harbor bridge replacement, widening Cuyahoga and Old rivers, $1.3 million.

Conneaut harbor, $1.3 million; Deer Creek reservoir, $7.3 million; East Fort reservoir, $500,000; Fremont $200,000; Hannibal locks and dam, Ohio and West Virginia, $3.3 million; Lorain harbor, $1 million; North Branch reservoir Kokosing River, $70,000; Paint Creek Reservoir $3.1 million; Racine locks and dam, Ohio and West Virginia, $17.7 million; Willow Island lock and dam, Ohio and West Virginia, $1.8 million; Youngstown, Crab Creek $1 million.

Money allocated for planning and surveys in addition to the $500,000 for the Ohio River-Lake Erie canal survey included:

Planning—Eastlake, Chagrin River, $75,000; Mill Creek reservoir, Scioto River Basin, $100,000, and Vermillion harbor, $35,000.

Surveys — Lake Erie coast, Michigan and Ohio, $30,000; Lake Erie coast, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York, $40,000; Mill Creek, $20,000; Muskingum River Basin, $140,000; Ohio River Basin, $258,000; Paint Creek at Chillicothe, $12,000; Tood Fork, Little Miami River, $15,000.

Dean Urges Higher Pay For Police

CINCINNATI (AP) — The increase of crime in Cincinnati has come under close scrutiny with recommendations of higher police salaries and establishments of a legal office within the police department as two ways to help curb it.

Those suggestions were offered Friday by Claude R. Soule, dean of the University of Cincinnati's College of Law, along with a recommendation by city Safety Director Henry Sandman that police should be relieved of "nonpolice" tasks.

The recommendations came at the initial session of city council's investigation into the "whys" of increased crime and what can be done to halt it.

Soule said a police chief of the size of Cincinnati should receive no less than $30,000 a year, and policeman at least $10,000. The present maximum for chief is $17,775 and $6,921 for others.

A legal office in the police department is needed, he said, to help cope with the "law explosion which has occurred in the criminal field," and to interpret new court decisions.

Sandman said police should be relieved of such duties as week control, dog bite investigations, garbage and litter control, inspection of defective streets and sidewalks and duty at precinct sites at election time.

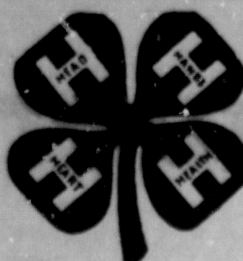

The investigation was spurred following a recent outburst of crime in the Cincinnati area, including the murders of seven persons since December, none of which has been solved.

Health Facilities Needed in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio needs nearly 5,000 more general hospital beds for acute illness, 6,500 additional nursing home beds for long-term care and modernization of 23,000 existing beds, reports the state health director.

Dr. E. W. Arnold issued the figures from Ohio's new plan for hospital and medical facilities construction in announcing Friday that a public hearing on the program will be held here Nov. 9.

The plan is used to set up priorities for the distribution of federal Hill-Burton funds, from which 19 previous years of participation Ohio has received nearly $111 million.

4-H Club News

By JAMES R. HELT
County Extension Agent, 4-H

Approximately 1,400 4-H members, parents, advisers and friends celebrated National 4-H Club Week at the annual 4-H and FFA Achievement Barbecue. This outstanding event was planned and sponsored by several local businesses and industries. The Pickaway County 4-H Band, directed by Drexel Poling, presented several numbers as part of the program.

This was the 22nd annual Barbecue held in recognition of the members' educational accomplishments. It is a community effort made possible through the following sponsors: Ashville Grain, Beckett Implement, Blue Ribbon Dairy, Bowling Stock Yards, Brehmer's Greenhouses, Citizens Bank of Ashville, Columbus Production Credit Association, Container Corporation of America, Circleville Oil, Dunlap Co., Farm Bureau, First National Bank, General Electric, Hill Implement, Heffner Grain, John Eshelman and Sons, J. C. Penny, Kroger Co., New Car Dealers, Mac's Good-year, Marshall Implement, Owens-Illinois, Paul Johnson, Pickaway Dairy, Pickaway Grain, Pittsburgh Plate Glass, Ralston Purina, Savings Bank South Central Power, Second National Bank, Super Sweet Feeds, Third National Bank and Ward's Royal Blue Market.

Several 4-H members were recognized for achievements. Jim Garrett of Darby Twp. was awarded the Dairy Achievement Award and a forthcoming trip to the National Dairy Conference in Chicago in November as a winner of the state Dairy Efficiency Award. Nancy May of Pickaway Twp., was presented a clock trophy for winning first place in the Sports Clothes division at the Ohio State Fair. Bill Hines, of Walnut township, received a medal for winning first place in beef cattle judging contest at the Ohio State Fair. Andy Hamman, of Deer-creek Township, received a medal for placing eighth place in general livestock judging at the Ohio State Fair.

Lynn Rickey of Circleville was presented the Heart H Award for her achievements in local club community service, help to other members of 4-H club help to 4-H adviser, county office help and cooperation, and county activities — assistance and participation.

Jim Garrett, was also presented the Service Award for his sincere efforts of service to others and cooperation with local and county 4-H club work.

The Pickaway Beef and Sheep 4-H Club, advised by Robert Bower, Harold Strawser, and Harold Riffe, received the state certificate for being one of the 10 most outstanding clubs in safety programs in Ohio.

The Perry Farmers of Tomorrow, advised by Dick Somers and Ellwyn Hulse, was presented a certificate for having one of the ten most outstanding clubs with their community beautification program in Ohio.

Twelve Pickaway County clubs were presented Honor Club certificates for their educational achievements and program in their local club. They are: Walnut Stitches, advisers, Mrs. Alice Woolever and Mrs. Frank Carpenter; Sew Straight Teenettes, Circleville, advisers, Mrs. Della Wertman and Mrs. Robert Radcliff; Scioto

Township, advisers, Mrs. Charles Rose and Mrs. Marjorie Green; Merry Mixers, of Circleville, advisers, Mrs. Hearty Bartholomew and Mrs. James Shea;

Logan Elm Sunny Sewers, of Pickaway Township, advisers, Mrs. Roger Schneider and Mrs. Robert Mills; Jackson Jolly Tasters and Basters, Jackson Township, advisers, Mrs. Clyde Karshner, Mrs. Lloyd Minor, Mrs. Richard Hansen; Jackson Livestock, of Jackson Township, advisers, Paul Thompson, Lloyd Minor, Gary Thompson, Tom Boyer, and Leroy Newlon; Walnut Wonder Workers, of Walnut Township, advisers, Jay Hay, Roger Schneider, Neil Barr, Bob Pontius, and Bill Winter; Pickaway County Colt and Equitation, advisers, Dr. Floyd Dunlap, Sterling Poling, Marvin Reichelderfer; Pickaway Beef and Sheep, of Pickaway Township, advisers, Robert Bower, Harold Strawser, and Harold Riffe; Future Farmers of Monroe, of Monroe Township, advisers, Noah List, Paul Long, Gene Lindsey, Richard Immell, Ernie Lindsey, and Rex Ingman; and the Darby Fine and Dandy club, of Darby Township, advisers, Mostyn Garrett, Franklin Riddle, Chaney Vance and Darwin Allen.

Greenlight 4-H Club

By Kathleen LaRue

The final meeting of the year of the Greenlight 4-H club was held Wednesday, at the home of Carl Adams of Stoutsville.

Sixteen boys, six girls, and three adults were present. The roll call was answered by naming different football teams.

President Hank Bartholomew presided for the business meeting. The community project was discussed. Final plans and arrangements for the Fair County Fair were made. The adviser passed out the graded project books and fair passes.

Decorations were in keeping with the fall and Halloween season. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Ralph Adams assisted by co-hostess, Mrs. Virginia Hunt.

AMERICANS consumed more than 21 quarts of ice cream and frozen dairy products per person in 1965.

ONE-FOURTH to one-third of the day's food requirements should be included in breakfast, say Ohio State University Extension specialists.

FROM 1955 to 1965 milk consumption through the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs grew from slightly more than 2.5 billion half pints to about 6 billion half pints per year.

OHIO LAW allows a 30 per cent content of fat and 20 per cent content of water in hamburger while limiting this figure to 20 per cent of ground beef.

AS A RESULT of use by children, pre-sweetened cereals now make up one-quarter of all cereals sold, say Ohio State University Extension specialists.

A SURVEY of Wisconsin dairy herd disposals from November, 1964, to February, 1966, showed that one-third of the farmers quit for personal reasons (age, health, retirement), one third because of low income and cost of expansion, and one-fourth because of labor and its cost.

OUT OF every dollar of gross farm income in 1965, about 70 cents went for production expenses, according to the USDA.

OHIO STATE University Extension floriculturists say your flower arrangements will be more interesting if you allow a leaf, flower or branch to hang over the top of the container as a transition from the container to the arrangement.

TO MAKE your flower arrangements more interesting, mass or group together small flowers, such as baby's breath, to give a greater weight effect when they are combined with large flowers.

Insect Alerts

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Crickets seek the shelter of homes this time of year to get away from cold weather. If you don't like their tune and don't want them chewing your house plants, clothing, and furniture, here's how to keep them from moving in.

Extension pest control specialists recommend spraying basements and outside areas with a two per cent solution of chlordane, a one-half per cent solution of lindane or a one-half per cent solution of dieldrin. If you prefer to dust, use 5 per cent chlordane, 5 per cent DDT, 1 per cent lindane or 1 per cent dieldrin. Emulsion sprays which are also effective are 1 per cent diazinon, 1 per cent malathion or one-half per cent lindane.

Treat surrounding shrubbery and ground areas thoroughly with any of these insecticides to form a foolproof insect barrier, the entomologists say.

For light infestations inside the house, pick the crickets up with a tank-type vacuum cleaner and burn the bag contents. Heavy infestations may require use of insecticide. For finished surfaces use 2 per cent chlordane in oil (a ready-to-use formulation). On unfinished surfaces, use a 2 per cent chlordane emulsion diluted from concentrate or one-half per cent dieldrin solution as a "spot" treatment on baseboards. Check the label for the proper dilutions to use on unfinished surfaces. Also, be sure to follow directions and precautions carefully.

Before new shelled corn is stored, hunt down and sweep up old grain and dust left over from last year. You may find infested grain in truck beds, chicken houses, spilled grain, "empty" feed sacks, stored feed, in addition to the grain bin.

Sweep down walls and floors and burn the sweepings. Apply 2.5 per cent malathion as a residual spray. Do not contaminate feed. Allow bin to dry before storing the shelled corn.

New Feeder Cattle Usually Need Immediate Attention

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

At this time of year many farmers are filling their lots with cattle for the coming winter feeding period.

Many feeders express a great concern over sickness and losses from new cattle. There are many areas that need attention when new stock arrives.

Unfortunately there are too many unknowns as to where cattle originate or when they start to move and how they are handled or treated. Avoid owning stale cattle with an unknown history.

There should be no mystery about how to handle calves on arrival at the farm. It should help to know exactly the time the animals leave their original home to move to your farm and to know in detail how they were handled, treated, fed and watered.

A FIRST requirement is to provide adequate nutrition immediately, which includes clean water. Rest is also a prime requirement.

There is no better "one feed" than quality mixed hay — 50 per cent or more of which is grass. Prefer an all grass hay to an all legume hay. Prefer red clover as the legume rather than alfalfa or ladino clover. Avoid high quality alfalfa hay and any poor quality hay of any kind. Provide fresh hay at least three times daily at the start; then free choice continuously after a few days.

Whole oats, shelled or coarsely ground corn, corn silage, and a protein feed with or without molasses can be fed from the first day. Corn might be delayed the longest.

The first feed in addition to hay might include ½ pound whole oats, ½ pound protein. The first feed in addition to hay might include ½ pound whole oats, ½ pound protein, with a little corn silage or any combination of these feeds. Increase the amounts gradually each feed until they are up to the level desired.

For the first feed, a good plan is to place a very small amount of hay in the bottom of the feed bunk; place a ribbon of corn silage on the hay, place whole oats on the silage, place protein on the oats, then another very small amount of hay on top.

Provide less hay than the amount likely to be eaten. After an hour or two, add more hay. Repeat this at each feeding.

THIS WAY cattle become accustomed to different feeds at one time, and after a few feedings will require less effort. It will pay to outfit the cattle every way possible to get them eating.

It is best to keep cattle outdoors unless the weather is severe. Permitting a choice of being outside and inside — as they are inclined — is desirable. Cattle confined indoors should have plenty of room, top ventilation, and no drafts.

Regardless of most weather conditions, cattle confined indoors may be better off than in many barns. Allow them plenty of sunshine and rest.

Feeding cattle when they arrive is excellent when sufficient grass is available. Too often in the fall too little grass is available, or the quality is too poor, to provide the level of nutrition desired.

In large pastures, calves weaned just before arrival may "bawl and wander" excessively at first. Confining cattle to a smaller field or lot for a few days would be more advisable.

There is more chance of loss than gain in confining calves to clean in cornstalk fields. For maximum profit, this requires close observation and good judgment.

YEARLING cattle will more likely return plus benefits than calves in terms of maintaining weight or gaining weight and in making profitable use of stalk fields.

Provide top management and nutrition in an attempt to reduce cattle health problems. Even so there will be health problems at times. Close observation and recognizing sub-standard cattle, with early assistance from a veterinarian, is best management.

There is no known preventative for so-called shipping fever. No treatment should be expected to substitute for nutrition and good management. There is an excellent vaccine for so-called "red nose."

Several promoted shipping fever preventatives or tend-to-prevent type feed additives may be of value under a given set of conditions and may have no value under another set of conditions. When they will or not work is uncertain.

4-H Club News

By JAMES R. HELT
County Extension Agent, 4-H

Approximately 1,400 4-H members, parents, advisers and friends celebrated National 4-H Club Week at the annual 4-H and FFA Achievement Barbecue. This outstanding event was planned and sponsored by several local businesses and industries. The Pickaway County 4-H Band, directed by Drexel Poling, presented several numbers as part of the program.

This was the 22nd annual Barbecue held in recognition of the members' educational accomplishments. It is a community effort made possible through the following sponsors: Ashville Grain, Beckett Implement, Blue Ribbon Dairy, Bowling Stock Yards, Brehmer's Greenhouses, Citizens Bank of Ashville, Columbus Production Credit Association, Container Corporation of America, Circleville Oil, Dunlap Co., Farm Bureau, First National Bank, General Electric, Hill Implement, Heffner Grain, John Eshelman and Sons, J. C. Penny, Kroger Co., New Car Dealers, Mac's Good-year, Marshall Implement, Ohio-Illinois, Paul Johnson, Pickaway Dairy, Pickaway Grain, Pittsburg Plate Glass, Ralston Purina, Savings Bank South Central Power, Second National Bank, Super Sweet Feeds, Third National Bank and Ward's Royal Blue Market.

Several 4-H members were recognized for achievements. Jim Garrett of Darby Twp. was awarded the Dairy Achievement Award and a forthcoming trip to the National Dairy Conference in Chicago in November as a winner of the state Dairy Efficiency Award. Nancy May of Pickaway Twp. was presented a clock trophy for winning first place in the Sports Clothes division at the Ohio State Fair. Bill Hines, of Walnut township, received a medal for winning first place in beef cattle judging contest at the Ohio State Fair. Andy Hamman, of Deer-creek Township, received a medal for placing eighth place in general livestock judging at the Ohio State Fair.

Lynn Rickey of Circleville was presented the Heart H Award for her achievements in local club community service, help to other members of 4-H club help to 4-H adviser, county office help and cooperation, and county activities — assistance and participation.

Jim Garrett, was also presented the Service Award for his sincere efforts of service to others and cooperation with local and county 4-H club work.

The Pickaway Beef and Sheep 4-H Club, advised by Robert Bower, Harold Strawser, and Harold Riffle, received the state certificate for being one of the 20 most outstanding clubs in safety programs in Ohio.

The Perry Farmers of Tomorrow, advised by Dick Somers and Ellwyn Hulise, was presented a certificate for having one of the ten most outstanding clubs with their community beautification program in Ohio.

Twelve Pickaway County clubs were presented Honor Club certificates for their educational achievements and program in their local club. They are: Walnut Stitches, advisers, Mrs. Alice Woollever and Mrs. Frank Carpenter; Sew Straight Teenettes, Circleville, advisers, Mrs. Della Wertman and Mrs. Robert Radcliff; Scioto Hardy Workers, of Scioto

Township, advisers, Mrs. Charles Roese and Mrs. Marjorie Green; Merry Mixers, of Circleville, advisers, Mrs. Henry Bartholomew and Mrs. James Shea;

Logan Elm Sunny Sewers, of Pickaway Township, advisers, Mrs. Roger Schneider and Mrs. Robert Mills; Jackson Jolly Tasters and Basters, Jackson Township, advisers, Mrs. Clyde Karshner, Mrs. Lloyd Minor, Mrs. Richard Hansen; Jackson Livestock, of Jackson Township, advisers, Paul Thompson, Lloyd Minor, Gary Thompson, Tom Boyer, and Leroy Newton; Walnut Wonder Workers, of Walnut Township, advisers, Jay Hay, Roger Schneider, Neil Barr, Bob Pontius, and Bill Winter; Pickaway County Colt and Equitation, advisers, Dr. Floyd Dunlap, Sterling Poling, Marvin Reichelderfer; Pickaway Beef and Sheep, of Pickaway Township, advisers, Robert Bower, Harold Strawser, and Harold Riffle; Future Farmers of Monroe, of Monroe Township, advisers, Noah List, Paul Long, Gene Lindsey, Richard Immell, Ernie Lindsey, and Rex Ingman; and the Darby Fine and Dandy club, of Darby Township, advisers, Mostyn Garrett, Franklin Riddle, Chaney Vance and Darwin Allen.

Greenlight 4-H Club

By Kathleen LaRue

The final meeting of the year of the Greenlight 4-H club was held Wednesday, at the home of Carl Adams of Stoutsville. Sixteen boys, six girls, and three adults were present. The roll call was answered by naming different football teams.

President Hank Bartholomew presided for the business meeting. The community project was discussed. Final plans and arrangements for the Fairfield County Fair were made. The adviser passed out the graded project books and fair passes.

Decorations were in keeping with the fall and Halloween season. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Ralph Adams assisted by co-hostess, Mrs. Virginia Hunt.

Hereford Show

Due October 13

The All-Ohio Hereford Show will be held Oct. 13 at the Fairgrounds at Lancaster.

This show is jointly sponsored by the Fairfield County Agricultural Society, the American Hereford Association and the Ohio Hereford Association, and held in conjunction with the Fairfield County Fair. Activity will start at 9 a. m.

Exhibitors from throughout the state have entered 78 head to compete for the $2,700 in premiums.

CATTLE FEEDING RACK For Hay And Silage

PLAN NO. 5925

Hay, Silage Feeding Rack Helpful in Cutting Costs

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

AMERICANS consumed more than 21 quarts of ice cream and frozen dairy products per person in 1965.

ONE-FOURTH to one-third of the dr.'s food requirements should be included in breakfast, say Ohio State University Extension specialists.

FROM 1955 to 1965 milk consumption through the National School Lunch and Special Milk Programs grew from slightly more than 2.5 billion half pints to about 6 billion half pints per year.

OHIO LAW allows a 30 per cent content of fat and suet in hamburger while limiting this figure to 20 per cent of ground beef.

AS A RESULT of use by children, pre-sweetened cereals now make up one-quarter of all cereals sold, say Ohio State University Extension specialists.

A SURVEY of Wisconsin dairy herd disposals from November, 1964, to February, 1966, showed that one-third of the farmers quit for personal reasons (age, health, retirement), one-third because of low income and cost of expansion, and one-fourth because of labor and its cost.

OUT OF every dollar of gross farm income in 1965, about 70 cents went for production expenses, according to the USDA.

OHIO STATE University Extension floriculturists say your flower arrangements will be more interesting if you allow a leaf, flower or branch to hang over the top of the container as a transition from the container to the arrangement.

TO MAKE your flower arrangements more interesting, mass or group together small flowers, such as baby's breath, to give a greater weight effect when they are combined with large flowers.

Insect Alerts

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Crickets seek the shelter of homes this time of year to get away from cold weather. If you don't like their tune and don't want them chewing your house plants, clothing, and furniture, here's how to keep them from moving in.

Extension pest control specialists recommend spraying basements and outside areas with a two per cent solution of chlordane, a one-half per cent solution of lindane or a one-half per cent solution of dieldrin. If you prefer to dust, use 5 per cent chlordane, 5 per cent DDT, 1 per cent lindane or 1 per cent dieldrin. Emulsion sprays which are also effective are 1 per cent diazinon, 1 per cent malathion or one-half per cent lindane.

Treat surrounding shrubbery and ground areas thoroughly with any of these insecticides to form a foolproof insect barrier, the entomologists say.

For light infestations inside the house, pick the crickets up with a tank-type vacuum cleaner and burn the bag contents. Heavy infestations may require use of insecticide. For finished surfaces use 2 per cent chlordane in oil (a ready-to-use formulation). On unfinished surfaces, use a 2 per cent chlordane emulsion diluted from concentrate or one-half per cent dieldrin solution as a "spot" treatment on baseboards. Check the label for the proper dilutions to use on unfinished surfaces. Also, be sure to follow directions and precautions carefully.

Before new shelled corn is stored, hunt down and sweep up old grain and dust left over from last year. You may find infested grain in truck beds, chicken houses, spilled grain, "empty" feed sacks, stored feed, in addition to the grain bin.

Sweep down walls and floors and burn the sweepings. Apply 2.5 per cent malathion as a residual spray. Do not contaminate feed. Allow bin to dry before storing the shelled corn.

New Feeder Cattle Usually Need Immediate Attention

By GEORGE HAMRICK
County Extension Agent
Agriculture

At this time of year many farmers are filling their lots with cattle for the coming winter feeding period.

Many feeders express a great concern over sickness and losses from new cattle. There are many areas that need attention when new stock arrives.

Unfortunately there are too many unknowns as to where cattle originate or when they start to move and how they are handled or treated. Avoid owning stale cattle with an unknown history.

There should be no mystery about how to handle calves on arrival at the farm. It should help to know exactly the time the animals leave their original home to move to your farm and to know in detail how they were handled, treated, fed and watered.

A FIRST requirement is to provide adequate nutrition immediately, which includes clear water. Rest is also a prime requirement.

There is no better "one fed" than quality mixed hay — 50 per cent or more of which is grass. Prefer an all grass hay to an all legume hay. Prefer red clover as the legume rather than alfalfa or ladino clover. Avoid high quality alfalfa hay and any poor quality hay of any kind. Provide fresh hay at least three times daily at the start; then free choice continuously after a few days.

Whole oats, shelled or coarsely ground corn, corn silage, and a protein feed with or without molasses can be fed from the first day. Corn might be delayed the longest.

The first feed in addition to hay might include ½ pound whole oats, ½ pound protein.

The first feed in addition to hay might include ½ pound whole oats, ½ pound protein, with a little corn silage or any combination of these feeds. Increase the amounts gradually each feed until they are up to the level desired.

For the first feed, a good plan is to place a very small amount of hay in the bottom of the feed bunk; place a ribbon of corn silage on the hay, place whole oats on the silage, place protein on the oats, then another very small amount of hay on top.

Provide less hay than the amount likely to be eaten. After an hour or two, add more hay. Repeat this at each feeding.

THIS WAY cattle become accustomed to different feeds at one time, and after a few feeds feeding will require less effort. It will pay to outwit the cattle every way possible to get them eating.

It is best to keep cattle outdoors unless the weather is severe. Permitting a choice of being outside and inside — as they are inclined — is desirable. Cattle confined indoors should have plenty of room, top ventilation, and no drafts.

Negardless of most weather conditions, cattle confined outdoors may be better off than in many barns. Allow them plenty of sunshine and rest.

Frazing cattle when they arrive is excellent when sufficient grass is available. Too often in the fall too little grass is available, or the quality is too poor, to provide the level of nutrition desired.

In large pastures, calves weaned just before arrival may "bawl and wander" excessively at first. Confining cattle to a smaller field or lot for a few days would be more advisable. There is more chance of loss than gain in confining calves to clean in cornstak fields. For maximum profit, this requires close observation and good judgment.

YEARLING cattle will more likely return plus benefits than calves in terms of maintaining weight or gaining weight and in making profitable use of stalk fields.

Provide top management and nutrition in an attempt to reduce cattle health problems. Even so there will be health problems at times. Close observation and recognizing sub-standard cattle, with early assistance from a veterinarian, is best management.

There is no known preventative for so-called shipping fever. No treatment should be expected to substitute for nutrition and good management. There is an excellent vaccine for so-called "red nose." Several promoted shipping fever preventatives or tend-to-prevent type feed additives may be of value under a given set of conditions and may have no value under another set of conditions. When they will or will not work is uncertain.

Home Agent Tips

By Marjorie Kaiser
Home Economics Agent

Right now is a good time to put the back yard in shape for winter.

Start by washing summer cookout grease and food stains from any terrace bricks or flagstone. First, hose down the hard surface with hot water, then scrub it with a stiff broom dipped in hot soap or detergent suds.

Take a tip from the Peruvians who have a unique method of cleaning the groats (those cement-filled joining spaces) without even bending over. Use a rubber band or string to fasten a small stiff brush to the side of your shoe so the bristles project parallel to the ground. As you scrub, rotate your foot to the side and run the brush along the cracks to loosen any special dirt. Then rinse the surface with another hosing at full pressure.

To do a thorough job of making ready for next spring, take down all outdoor light globes and immerse them in hot suds for washing inside and out. Then polish any metal lamp frames before replacing the clean globes or shades.

Use clean suds to sponge or brush - scrub metal, plastic and straw furniture. After rinsing, let it dry thoroughly. Putting garden furniture away clean and covered will keep it in good condition for a long time.

Vinyl plastic, which the fashion world once used mainly for lightweight, transparent rainwear, must be surprised at its great progress within just a few short years. Rainwear still represents an important use, but what a difference! Practically nothing is the same except the facility of keeping it clean with suds.

Even the nomenclature describing vinyl has changed. In men's wear, it must now have "the wet look" and the wetter the better. Unabashed "shine" is the aim when this plastic is used for handbags, belts, and dazzling jewelry.

Because vinyl can simulate any skin from alligator to zebra, it has a wide range of uses for shoes, luggage, and dress gloves. It is also being made into wildly-colored prints laminated to nylon for dresses that shimmer with every body movement.

While the basic appeal is undoubtedly due to the off-beat effects, the new vinyls have at least one virtue. Keeping them clean requires just one simple operation: wring a soft cloth out of warm soap or detergent suds and wipe it over the vinyl surface. Then remove the soiled suds with a clean, damp cloth and wipe all surfaces dry. In minutes, either startling Russian boots or modest rain bonnets are ready for another starring role.

During October the frozen food industry will be recognizing the importance of frozen food in the food marketing system.

Throughout the month you'll see various frozen food promotions in your retail store. New pack fruits and vegetables may be specialized.

The packers are selling some of the pack now rather than incurring storage costs. Frozen desserts, main dishes and gourmet items are among the items to be featured.

Dealers are tying in with Frozen Food Month, so you'll likely see home freezers featured at the local appliance store.

Here's a little housekeeping tip to save you time and effort: use plastic spoons for soft-boiled eggs, and plastic forks for omelets or scrambled eggs. While eggs do tarnish silver, plastic doesn't tarnish under any circumstances. It takes only a minute to "shine" plastic; wash it in soap or detergent suds, rinse and wipe dry. This silverware substitute is suggested just for eggs.

Cookbooks and children's books, which are handled often, can be covered with clear plastic film such as the kind you use for wrapping sandwiches. This plastic covering can be washed off with a sudsy sponge from time to time, so that books will last as long as they are needed and enjoyed.

One of New York City's oldest banks has dug up some interesting facts and figures on their early business expenditures. A broom and brush came to 38 cents. Scrubbing - with just one "b" - and cleaning charges for a month were one dollar. Imagine cleaning any office or home today with just a brush and broom! How lucky we are to have efficient washing supplies like modern soaps and detergents and also so many efficient, time- and energy-saving gadgets especially designed for practically every washing job.

Four Teenagers Escape to West

BERLIN (AP) — Using shovels to dig their way under border barriers and taking advantage of a darkened "death strip," four young East Germans escaped to Western Berlin early Friday.

Aged 17 to 19, the four youths said they fled to escape being drafted into the East German army.

The quartet made their way under five barbed-wire fences undetected. But after they had reported to a West Berlin police stronghold, guards on the Communist side of the border fired short bursts with their sub-machine guns.

"One of the East German patrols apparently spotted the tracks of the four and fired to give the alarm," a British spy spokesman said.

The youths crawled on their stomachs into Spandau, in the British sector of West Berlin, not far from where two men, two pregnant women, and a child successfully crossed over on Sept. 11 in an armored bulldozer amid a hail of bullets.

Police gave this account of the escape by the four youths:

They picked Thursday night for their flight when the learned that the lights on the "death strip" and searchlights in nearby guard watchtowers were not turned on. It was unknown why the lights were out. The "death strip" is a cleared area between inner and outer barriers lit every night so patrols can see anyone coming across.

Obtaining hand shovels, the four made their way to the border about 10 p.m. Two hours and 10 minutes later they had shovelled their way under the five barriers between them and West Berlin and were across.

Young Dems Plan To Reorganize

A reorganizational meeting of the Pickaway County young Democrats will be held 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Democratic headquarters on East Main Street.

Young Dems from 16 to 40 years of age are eligible to become members.

item is in the drill "because one powerful member of the other body wants a memorial to himself."

"He'll hate me for saying this and see that I don't get any projects," Scott said, adding "I'm a member of the minority and I don't get any projects anyway."

Lausche noted the many contributions localities along the proposed route of the canal would have to make before construction could be started.

Total cost of the local contribution has been estimated at $95 million.

Lausche and Scott said the localities are opposed to the canal because of the heavy costs they would have to bear and the necessary cooperation would never be forthcoming.

Senate Keeps Canal Intact

Lausche Joins Waterway Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate refused Friday to delete from a public works appropriations bill $500,000 to begin planning of a $1 billion Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal.

Sens. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., Joseph Clark, D-Pa., and Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, led the futile attempt to have the funds deleted.

The item is in a $4.13-billion Public Works Bill.

Sen. Stephen J. Young, D-Ohio, was among senators who urged approval of the canal planning funds. He said the project would be in the national interest.

The amendment to eliminate the canal money was sponsored by Scott and Clark. It was defeated on a standing vote, with only a handful of senators voting against the appropriation.

The House earlier had approved the $500,000 item.

Chief sponsor of the canal is Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio, chairman of the House Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee.

The 120-mile canal would extend from Ashtabula, Ohio, on Lake Erie, to the Ohio River near Pittsburgh.

Scott argued the canal would eliminate railroad jobs in western Pennsylvania. He challenged whether a 1935 canal authorization by Congress, cited by supporters of the canal appropriation, is still valid.

Scott said the $1-billion construction cost now mentioned actually means, "in the semantics of the Senate," $2 billion or $3 billion.

Terming the canal "an enormous boondoggle, a wasteful ditch," he said in an obvious reference to Kirwan that the

Neighbors Force Razing Of Luxurious Apartment

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Brussels' highest court has ordered one of the city's luxurious apartment blocks demolished because neighbors don't like its looks.

The block, which cost $4 million to build, is in Brussels' most fashionable and expensive park, stands next to a forest, and includes a private swimming pool.

But it did not please 33 owners of neighboring villas, and they sued the builders for failing to comply with a city regulation banning construction of anything other than villas in that area.

An appeal court decided last year that the 10-story block had to be demolished. The higher court rejected Thursday night the builders' claim that the block was a villa, since it had four front walls and was located in a park.

Owners of the 40 apartments in the block, who claim they acted in good faith in buying hurriedly called a conciliation meeting with their protesting neighbors, but a majority still was in favor of demolition.

Ohio Opens Non-Graded High School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's first "non-graded" high school should be in operation by September, 1967, according to Fred Chase, Athens city school superintendent.

Chase told the State Conference on Educational Leadership here Thursday that the new Athens school will do away with traditional grade levels and their specific curricula in favor of an "appropriate placement" system.

Students in the new school will be assigned within the full range of high school courses and allowed to proceed at their own rate, he said.

Chase said the new system will be implemented in a consolidated high school being built on the edge of Athens. The 1,200-student school will replace three existing high schools, he said. Chase said a $104,000 federally financed feasibility study has been completed and the Athens school board is expected to approve the project next week.

No decision has been made on the schoolwork grading system to be used under the new plan. One proposal would substitute "satisfactory" and "unsatisfactory" ratings for traditional letter grades.

Court Lists Month's Income

The Circleville Municipal Court listed an income of $10,394.80 from fines, costs and bond forfeitures collected during September.

The monthly report of the court, compiled by Naomi Houghton, clerk, listed disbursements to the city of Circleville at $6,248.69.

Pickaway County received $1,858.38 of the total income and the treasurer of the state received $2,019.93.

A total of 353 cases were filed during the month and 362 cases were completed. In addition 12 civil actions were filed and seven actions were concluded.

Costs due the city from civil actions totaled $169.17.

Drinking Causes Most Car Crashes

BOSTON (AP) — Drinking was a factor in most of the fatal, single-car accidents in Massachusetts this year, says an insurance firm representative.

Dr. George W. Wheatley, senior medical officer of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., said a study showed excessive drinking figured in 78 per cent of the 59 single-car fatalities between Jan. 1 and the end of September.

Even the nomenclature describing vinyl has changed. In men's wear, it must now have "the wet look" and the wetter the better. Unabashed "shine" is the aim when this plastic is used for handbags, belts, and dazzling jewelry.

Because vinyl can simulate any skin from alligator to zebra, it has a wide range of uses for shoes, luggage, and dress gloves. It is also being made into wildly-colored prints laminated to nylon for dresses that shimmer with every body movement.

While the basic appeal is undoubtedly due to the off-beat effects, the new vinyls have at least one virtue. Keeping them clean requires just one simple operation: wring a soft cloth out of warm soap or detergent suds and wipe it over the vinyl surface. Then remove the soiled suds with a clean, damp cloth and wipe all surfaces dry. In minutes, either startling Russian boots or modest rain bonnets are ready for another starring role.

During October the frozen food industry will be recognizing the importance of frozen food in the food marketing system.

Throughout the month you'll see various frozen food promotions in your retail store. New pack fruits and vegetables may be specialized.

The packers are selling some of the pack now rather than incurring storage costs. Frozen desserts, main dishes and gourmet items are among the items to be featured.

Dealers are tying in with Frozen Food Month, so you'll likely see home freezers featured at the local appliance store.

Here's a little housekeeping tip to save you time and effort: use plastic spoons for soft-boiled eggs, and plastic forks for omelets or scrambled eggs. While eggs do tarnish silver, plastic doesn't tarnish under any circumstances. It takes only a minute to "shine" plastic; wash it in soap or detergent suds, rinse and wipe dry. This silverware substitute is suggested just for eggs.

Cookbooks and children's books, which are handled often, can be covered with clear plastic film such as the kind you use for wrapping sandwiches. This plastic covering can be washed off with a sudsy sponge from time to time, so that books will last as long as they are needed and enjoyed.

One of New York City's oldest banks has dug up some interesting facts and figures on their early business expenditures. A broom and brush came to 38 cents. Scrubbing - with just one "b" - and cleaning charges for a month were one dollar. Imagine cleaning any office or home today with just a brush and broom! How lucky we are to have efficient washing supplies like modern soaps and detergents and also so many efficient, time- and energy-saving gadgets especially designed for practically every washing job.

Four Teenagers Escape to West

BERLIN (AP) — Using shovels to dig their way under border barriers and taking advantage of a darkened "death strip," four young East Germans escaped to Western Berlin early Friday.

Aged 17 to 19, the four youths said they fled to escape being drafted into the East German army.

The quartet made their way under five barbed-wire fences

undetected. But after they had reported to a West Berlin police stronghold, guards on the Communist side of the border fired short bursts with their sub-machine guns.

"One of the East German patrols apparently spotted the tracks of the four and fired to give the alarm," a British spokesman said.

The youths crawled on their stomachs into Spandau, in the British sector of West Berlin, not far from where two men, two pregnant women, and a child successfully crossed over on Sept. 11 in an armored bulldozer amid a hail of bullets.

Police gave this account of the escape by the four youths:

"They picked Thursday night for their flight when the learned that the lights on the 'death strip' and searchlights in nearby guard watchtowers were not turned on. It was unknown why the lights were out. The 'death strip' is a cleared area between inner and outer barriers lit every night so patrols can see anyone coming across.

Obtaining hand shovels, the four made their way to the border about 10 p.m. Two hours and 10 minutes later they had shoveled their way under the five barriers between them and West Berlin and were across.

Young Dems Plan To Reorganize

A reorganizational meeting of the Pickaway County Young Democrats will be held 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Democratic headquarters on East Main Street.

Young Dems from 16 to 40 years of age are eligible to become members.

item is in the dill "because one powerful member of the other body wants a memorial to himself."

"He'll hate me for saying this and see that I don't get any projects," Scott said, adding "I'm a member of the minority, and I don't get any projects anyway."

Lausche noted the many contributions localities along the proposed route of the canal would have to make before construction could be started.

Total cost of the local contribution has been estimated at $95 million.

Lausche and Scott said the localities are opposed to the canal because of the heavy costs they would have to bear and the necessary cooperation would never be forthcoming.

Senate Keeps Canal Intact

Lausche Joins Waterway Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate refused Friday to delete from a public works appropriations bill $500,000 to begin planning of a $1 billion Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal.

Sens. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., Joseph Clark, D-Pa., and Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, led the futile attempt to have the funds deleted.

The item is in a $4.13-billion Public Works Bill. Sen. Stephen J. Young, D-Ohio, was among senators who urged approval of the canal planning funds. He said the project would be in the national interest.

The amendment to eliminate the canal money was sponsored by Scott and Clark. It was defeated on a standing vote, with only a handful of senators voting against the appropriation.

The House earlier had approved the $500,000 item.

Chief sponsor of the canal is Rep. Michael J. Kirwan, D-Ohio, chairman of the House Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee.

The 120-mile canal would extend from Ashtabula, Ohio, on Lake Erie, to the Ohio River near Pittsburgh.

Scott argued the canal would eliminate railroad jobs in western Pennsylvania. He challenged whether a 1935 canal authorization by Congress, cited by supporters of the canal appropriation, is still valid.

Scott said the $1-billion construction cost now mentioned actually means, "in the semantics of the Senate," $2 billion or $3 billion.

Terming the canal "an enormous boondoggle, a wasteful ditch," he said in an obvious reference to Kirwan that the

Women To Boycott 5 Markets

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Housewives for Lower Food Prices, a group of Denver-area women irked by what they believe are inordinately high food prices, say they plan to boycott five major chain stores beginning Oct. 17.

The chains are Safeway, Miller's, King Sooper's, Red Owl and Furr's.

"We have gotten the word out to several thousand women in the metropolitan area alone," Mrs. Jay S. Threlkeld, a spokeswoman for the group, said. The group has met five times and about 90 women attended each meeting along with with representatives of the stores under fire.

"We're going to shop at independent and neighborhood groceries until we convince the chains we mean business. We don't like to feel we're being taken to the cleaners and we're tired of hearing about some rich, invisible middle man who's causing prices to go up," Mrs. Thelkeld said.

"We're in favor of lower prices, too," said McLeod Hittson, vice president and divisional manager of Miller's. "If there's a cost increase at the production level, then we have to pass it along to the consumer."

Hittson said Miller's is "now operating on the lowest profit structure we've had in years."

C&I Pond, public relations manager of Safeway, said he met with a committee of the housewives' organization for 2½ hours recently. He distributed copies of the August 66 Fall Industry Newsletter, produced by the National Association of Food Chains.

The newsletter cites a diminishing supply of goods and services, surplus food and feeds, low hog cycles in 1965 and early 1966, low milk production and the war in Viet Nam as some reasons for rising prices, Pond said.

"A boycott of our stores isn't going to help anything," he said.

Neighbors Force Razing Of Luxurious Apartment

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Brussels' highest court has ordered one of the city's luxurious apartment blocks demolished because neighbors don't like its looks.

The block, which cost $4 million to build, is in Brussels' most fashionable and expensive park, stands next to a forest, and includes a private swimming pool.

But it did not please 33 owners of neighboring villas, and they sued the builders for failing to comply with a city regulation banning construction of anything other than villas in that area.

An appeal court decided last year that the 10-story block had to be demolished. The higher court rejected Thursday night the builders' claim that the block was a villa, since it had four front walls and was located in a park.

Owners of the 40 apartments in the block, who claim they acted in good faith in buying hurriedly called a conciliation meeting with their protesting neighbors, but a majority still was in favor of demolition.

Ohio Opens Non-Graded High School

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's first "non-graded" high school should be in operation by September, 1967, according to Fred Chase, Athens city school superintendent.

Chase told the State Conference on Educational Leadership here Thursday that the new Athens school will do away with traditional grade levels and their specific curricula in favor of an "appropriate placement" system.

Students in the new school will be assigned within the full range of high school courses and allowed to proceed at their own rate, he said.

Chase said the new system will be implemented in a consolidated high school being built on the edge of Athens. The 1,200-student school will replace three existing high schools, he said.

Chase said a $104,000 federally financed feasibility study has been completed and the Athens school board is expected to approve the project next week.

No decision has been made on the schoolwork grading system to be used under the new plan. One proposal would substitute "satisfactory" and "unsatisfactory" ratings for traditional letter grades.

Court Lists Month's Income

The Circleville Municipal Court listed an income of $10,394.80 from fines, costs and bond forfeitures collected during September.

The monthly report of the court, compiled by Naomi Houghton, clerk, listed disbursements to the city of Circleville at $6,248.69.

Pickaway County received $1,858.38 of the total income and the treasurer of the state received $2,019.93.

A total of 353 cases were filed during the month and 362 cases were completed.

In addition 12 civil actions were filed and seven actions were concluded.

Costs due the city from civil actions totaled $169.17.

Telephone Feeding?

Well, that's not exactly what we had in mind. Telephone feeding is another one of our ways to cut out a lot of the tedious time-consuming jobs of feeding livestock.

With our telephone feeding service, you can eliminate hauling your grain to the mill and the waiting while it's ground or mixed. You can eliminate the problem of on-the-farm storage and put that valuable space to better use. In fact, you might even eliminate the job of feeding your stock altogether, since we will deliver complete Check-R-Mix ration directly to your self-feeders if you use them.

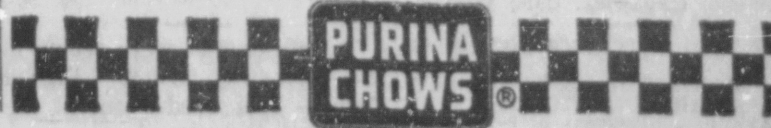

Harvest your grain. Bring it in to us and we'll store it for you in our grain bank. When you need it, just pick up the phone and give us a call. We'll Check-R-Mix it according to the research-proven Purina specifications. And deliver it to your feeders if you like.

Sound easy? It is. Just phone us and see.

Wall Street Voice

Soon after he became its president, Keith Funston declared the New York Stock Exchange should stop being the government's "whipping boy." The time had come, he said, "to stand up and talk turkey to our critics and our enemies."

Talking up has been a conspicuous feature of his presidency which he now plans to leave by the end of his 16th year next September.

It has been displayed in such ways as fighting federal regulations which he believed impugned the exchange's ability to police itself, demanding more tax privileges for investors, and threatening to move the Big Board out of the city during battles with New York mayors bent upon snagging more revenue from stock transactions.

The public has felt this former college professor's influence in an "educational" campaign and easy-payment plan through which he helped make investing more popular. A good part of the growth in the number of stockholders during his tenure — from 6.5 million to 20 million — may be attributed to these programs.

They have also produced more business for Wall Street, which doubtless was Mr. Funston's main idea.

Groups Horn In on Art

NEW YORK (AP) — Social protest against today's false values can take strange forms.

Actor Anthony Quinn, for example, is now collecting and decorating old Italian ox yokes, an uncrowded field if ever there was one.

Tony, a gifted sculptor and artist, started buying modern paintings as a youth.

"Now art is a big world cartel. I can't afford it anymore," he said.

"They now are forming syndicates and corporations to buy paintings, just as they do racehorses. I was recently offered a chance to buy one thirty-second of a Renoir. Think of that!"

"These people should hang their tax returns or bank statements on their walls rather than pictures."

"So now I collect Italian ox yokes and decorate them myself. That's the solution — to create your own art. If I ever get tired of them, I can always put them back on the oxen."

Being adaptable is the life creed of the husky Quinn, twice an Academy Award winner, who at 50 recently completed his 51st film, "It's Whats Happening!"

"Society demands compromise, and I'm not a man who will compromise," he remarked. "But adaptability is another thing. You have to adapt to the changing rhythms of life to stay young."

"Life rarely goes the way we plan it. It has a way of dictating its course. You stay young only as long as you can adapt and seek new things."

Quinn, born of an Irish father and Mexican mother, has a face like a map of mankind — a United Nations face — that enables him easily to play almost anything from an Arab to a Zulu. Self-educated, he has a mind like a torrent that seeks to penetrate every crevice of life.

Besides English, he is fluent in Spanish and Italian, "half-fluent" in French, and can get by in Greek, German and Eskimo.

Like many financially successful people, Tony believes the biggest mistake most people make is to hold up success as the greatest goal.

"The word success is the falsest god in life," he said. "It has made more unhappy people, driven more of them to pills and psychiatrist than any other single thing."

"I would like to take the idea of competition out of success. I don't want to be better than anybody else, just as good as anybody else. But" — he paused, waved his brawny arms — "of course, I don't want anybody else to be better and lord it over me."

Quinn feels the world would be better off if each man competed with himself rather than against others.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — More women are working today than ever before—more even than in 1944, when Rosie the riveter produced whistles, stares and airplanes.

The percentage of women who work has been moving up gradually, from 31 per cent of working age women in 1947 to more than 38 per cent now. The trend lately has been pronounced.

In the past year more women than men were added to the civilian work force, a total of 878,000 compared to a total of 559,000 for men aged 20 or more.

This is what it reflects:

—A change in the nature of many jobs from factory to office, from blue collar to white. Perhaps it would be better to call her Miss Jones now rather than Rosie.

—The scarcity of employable men, which has forced industry to look more aggressively for women workers.

—The philosophy and laws of equal opportunity, which bar discrimination because of race, religion or sex.

—More education for women, greater skills and the desire to utilize them after the children are in school; or, to pay for the education of the children. More than one-half the number of women in their 40s and 50s are employed.

—Adjustable hours. The growth of agencies that lease part-time workers to industry has permitted many women to choose their hours. And part-time teachers and nurses are in demand.

—More efficient homes, where egg beaters and can openers and knives are powered, where stoves are controlled from consoles, where freezers stock food for months ahead, where recipes are scientific.

—The pill, or birth control.

—The war. The armed forces have stripped more than 480,000 teen-agers or working age men from the potential civilian employment pool in the past year.

A study by the First National City Bank of New York found some of these factors also have improved the work chances of teenagers. The teen-age labor pool is a big one now, expected to grow by 900,000 this year. Although its history has been erratic, teen-age unemployment is now lower than a year ago. Although its history has been due women to go back to work is inflation. Housewives especially have been aware of the sharp rise in the price of food and services.

Short-term factors such as inflation cannot, however, account for a long-term trend that shows women leaving the home in the morning and returning in the evening—a routine once thought typically male.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

It was once considered that gallstones had a special affinity for people who are described as being fair, fat and 40. Unfortunately, for the dark, thin and 30, they too are candidates for diseases of the gall bladder.

The gall bladder is a small sac which lies underneath the liver. It stores the excess bile that is manufactured by the liver.

Bile is very important for digestion of foods, particularly fatty foods. The bile passes from the gall bladder to the small intestine through a tiny tube. Normally, this passageway is unobstructed.

For reasons that are not entirely known, stones of varying sizes and shapes sometimes form in the gall bladder. These stones are composed of a mixture of cholesterol, bile salts, bile pigments and calcium.

Occasionally, a gallstone may become wedged in the small tube or duct that goes to the intestine. It is then that distressing symptoms of "biliary colic" occur. A fatty meal often triggers the onset of an attack. Pain in the upper abdomen on the right side, with nausea and vomiting, is characteristic. After the painful attack is over, the patient may again become totally free of symptoms.

Even a single attack of biliary colic dictates the need for a complete examination of the gall bladder.

Since gallstones may contain calcium, about 50 per cent are readily found by X-ray. Special dyes, when injected into the blood stream, or taken by mouth, become concentrated in the gall bladder. This makes possible further diagnosis of non-calcium gallstones and inflammation of the gall bladder.

Sometimes infection and inflammation of the gall bladder can cause an attack of colic even when there are no stones present.

During a severe attack of colic, treatment is concentrated on the relief of pain. Special anti-spasm medication is very effective.

Attacks of colic can be diminished in frequency with strict adherence to a high protein, high carbohydrate and low fat diet.

Occasionally stones may remain in the gall bladder without causing the slightest discomfort. These "silent" stones are usually discovered by chance, during a routine X-ray of the stomach or the intestines.

At present, the only method of removing stones from the gall bladder is by surgery. The need for operation must necessarily be the decision of the Miss Sidney Graves was selected to receive the state award for citizenship in the Ohio 4-H contest.

Robert Shaw, state senator from this district, was guest speaker at a Rotary Club meeting.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Mayor William Cady was suffering from a case of sciatica and could not attend opening ceremonies of the 1941 Pumpkin Show.

Wenrich Stuckey, a Pickaway County 4-H Club member participated in the National Dairy Show at Nashville, Tenn.

Twenty classes were set up in the Pickaway County Pigeon Club — sponsored event at the Pumpkin Show.

Wall Street Voice

Soon after he became its president, Keith Funston declared the New York Stock Exchange should stop being the government's "whipping boy." The time had come, he said, "to stand up and talk turkey to our critics and our enemies."

Talking up has been a conspicuous feature of his presidency which he now plans to leave by the end of his 16th year next September.

It has been displayed in such ways as fighting federal regulations which he believed impugned the exchange's ability to police itself, demanding more tax privileges for investors, and threatening to move the Big Board out of the city during battles with New York mayors bent upon snagging more revenue from stock transactions.

The public has felt this former college professor's influence in an "educational" campaign and easy-payment plan through which he helped make investing more popular. A good part of the growth in the number of stockholders during his tenure — from 6.5 million to 20 million — may be attributed to these programs.

They have also produced more business for Wall Street, which doubtless was Mr. Funston's main idea.

Groups Horn In on Art

NEW YORK (AP) — Social protest against today's false values can take strange forms.

Actor Anthony Quinn, for example, is now collecting and decorating old Italian ox yokes, an uncrowded field if ever there was one.

Tony, a gifted sculptor and artist, started buying modern paintings as a youth.

"Now art is a big world cartel. I can't afford it anymore," he said.

"They now are forming syndicates and corporations to buy paintings, just as they do racehorses. I was recently offered a chance to buy one thirty-second of a Renoir. Think of that!"

"These people should hang their tax returns or bank statements on their walls rather than pictures."

"So now I collect Italian ox yokes and decorate them myself. That's the solution — to create your own art. If I ever get tired of them, I can always put them back on the oxen."

Being adaptable is the life creed of the husky Quinn, twice an Academy Award winner, who at 50 recently completed his 51st film, "It's What's Happening!"

"Society demands compromise, and I'm not a man who will compromise," he remarked. "But adaptability is another thing. You have to adapt to the changing rhythms of life to stay young."

"Life rarely goes the way we plan it. It has a way of dictating its course. You stay young only as long as you can adapt and seek new things."

Quinn, born of an Irish father and Mexican mother, has a face like a map of mankind — a United Nations face — that enables him easily to play almost anything from an Arab to a Zulu. Self-educated, he has a mind like a torrent that seeks to penetrate every crevice of life,

Besides English, he is fluent in Spanish and Italian, "half-fluent" in French, and can get by in Greek, German and Eskimo.

Like many financially successful people, Tony believes the biggest mistake most people make is to hold up success as the greatest goal.

"The word success is the falsest god in life," he said. "It has made more unhappy people, driven more of them to pills and psychiatrist than any other single thing."

"I would like to take the idea of competition out of success. I don't want to be better than anybody else, just as good as anybody else. But" — he paused, waved his brawny arms — "of course, I don't want anybody else to be better and lord it over me."

Quinn feels the world would be better off if each man competed with himself rather than against others.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — More women are working today than ever before—more even than in 1944, when Rosie the Riveter produced whistles, staves and airplanes.

The percentage of women who work has been moving up gradually, from 31 per cent of working age women in 1947 to more than 38 per cent now. The trend lately has been pronounced.

In the past year more women than men were added to the civilian work force, a total of 878,000 compared to a total of 559,000 for men aged 20 or more.

This is what it reflects:

—A change in the nature of many jobs from factory to office, from blue collar to white. Perhaps it would be better to call her Miss Jones now rather than Rosie.

—The scarcity of employable men, which has forced industry to look more aggressively for women workers.

—The philosophy and laws of equal opportunity, which bar discrimination because of race, religion or sex.

—More education for women, greater skills and the desire to utilize them after the children are in school; or, to pay for the education of the children. More than one-half the number of women in their 40s and 50s are employed.

—Adjustable hours. The growth of agencies that lease part-time workers to industry has permitted many women to choose their hours. And part-time teachers and nurses are in demand.

—More efficient homes, where egg heaters and can openers and knives are powered, where stoves are controlled from consoles, where freezers stock food for months ahead, where recipes are scientific.

—The pill, or birth control.

—The war. The armed forces have stripped more than 480,000 teen-agers or working age men from the potential civilian employment pool in the past year.

A study by the First National City Bank of New York found some of these factors also have improved the work chances of teenagers. The teen-age labor pool is a big one now, expected to grow by 900,000 this year. Although its history has been erratic, teen-age unemployment is now lower than a year ago.

Although its history has been due women to go back to work is inflation. Housewives especially have been aware of the sharp rise in the price of food and services.

Short-term factors such as inflation cannot, however, account for a long-term trend that shows women leaving the home in the morning and returning in the evening—a routine once thought typically male.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

BOB HOPE admits ruefully that he remembers well the first joke he ever told as a professional entertainer. His partner asked "Where do all the bugs go in wintertime?"

And Bob answered, "You can search me." "You let them others—at least seven highly paid writers per show—supply his material. Hope confessed that when he was born, his mother took one look at that ski-nose of his and complained, "That obnoxious must have taken the baby and left the stork!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

It was once considered that gallstones had a special affinity for people who are described as being fair, fat and 40. Unfortunately, for the dark, thin and 30, they too are candidates for diseases of the gall bladder.

The gall bladder is a small sac which lies underneath the liver. It stores the excess bile that is manufactured by the liver.

Bile is very important for digestion of foods, particularly fatty foods. The bile passes from the gall bladder to the small intestine through a tiny tube. Normally, this passageway is unobstructed.

For reasons that are not entirely known, stones of varying sizes and shapes sometimes form in the gall bladder. These stones are composed of a mixture of cholesterol, bile salts, bile pigments and calcium.

Occasionally, a gallstone may become wedged in the small tube or duct that goes to the intestine. It is then that distressing symptoms of "biliary colic" occur. A fatty meal often triggers the onset of an attack. Pain in the upper abdomen on the right side, with nausea and vomiting, is characteristic. After the painful attack is over, the patient may again become totally free of symptoms.

Even a single attack of biliary colic dictates the need for a complete examination of the gall bladder.

Since gallstones may contain calcium, about 50 per cent are readily found by X-ray. Special dyes, when injected into the blood stream, or taken by mouth, become concentrated in the gall bladder. This makes possible further diagnosis of non-calcium gallstones and inflammation of the gall bladder.

Sometimes infection and inflammation of the gall bladder can cause an attack of colic even when there are no stones present.

During a severe attack of colic, treatment is concentrated on the relief of pain. Special anti-spasm medication is very effective.

Attacks of colic can be diminished in frequency with strict adherence to a high protein, high carbohydrate and low fat diet.

Occasionally stones may remain in the gall bladder without causing the slightest discomfort. These "silent" stones are usually discovered by chance, during a routine X-ray of the stomach or the intestines.

At present, the only method of removing stones from the gall bladder is by surgery. The need for operation must necessarily be the decision of the Kerak Castle, where Crusaders once chivalrously fought with Saladin, houses a new Jordanian Guest House, the eighth to be erected at biblical and historic sites in Jordan. The Kerak Guest House has a notable view of the Dead Sea, a restaurant and sleeping accommodations for overnight guests. It opened in the Spring of 1966. Kerak is a two hour drive from Amman, Jordan's capital, along the biblical Kings' Highway.

Dear Abby: Problem Is Their Own

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A pair of sisters-in-law in our circle do not get along and everybody who knows them is aware of it. My husband is friendly with their husbands (they are brothers) and I like both women, so we invited both couples to our daughter's wedding and reception. There were nearly 300 other guests.

Well, I have come in for a lot of criticism since then. People say I should make up my mind which woman I want for my friend and forget that the other one exists. I don't see why I have to make a choice, do you? I would appreciate your opinion.

FAU PAS

DEAR FAU: To knowingly invite people who do not get along to an intimate gathering is poor taste. But if two people can't bury their hostilities in a group of 300, that's THEIR problem, not yours. Forget it.

DEAR ABBY: I have just returned from church and what I saw made me sick. Please say something to mothers who dress their 11- and 12-year-old daughters in nylons, heels and let them use a lot of make-up and rat their hair.

Everywhere I looked I saw these children dressed and made up to look like midgets. Don't mothers realize they do their daughters more harm than good when they let them grow up too fast?

SAW AND SICK

DEAR SAW: Well-meaning mothers in their misguided efforts to make their daughters pretty and popular are not aware of the dangers awaiting a 12-year-old who appears to be much older. Children lack a maturity and experience to handle situations they are sure to encounter when they look older.

Some girls mature faster than others, but it is up to the mother to know how emotionally mature her daughter is, and to her accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: I would appreciate an outsider's opinion to our family problem. Recently my father-in-law visited us for two weeks from another state. We have two children at home and one in an institution with a severe problem which makes it impossible for him to live with us. We speak of him freely.

When friends inquire (mostly out of courtesy), we say, "He's coming along fine."

All the time my father-in-law was here he did not mention the boy's name or ask how he was. Nothing. It was as though the boy were not even alive. I even mentioned the child and my father-in-law changed the subject. I can't tell you how much this hurt me.

My husband excused his father's attitude by saying, "He is so sick about it, he can't talk about it." What kind of an answer was that?

DEEPLY HURT

DEAR HURT: Your father-in-law might have been trying to spare you heartache by avoiding reference to the boy, even though mistakenly. He was probably being more careful than callous — not understanding the more enlightened modern approach today's young parents have to such problems. Don't hold it against him.

WSCS Women Hosted by Mrs. Patrick

The WSCS Women of the Calvary EUB Church met in the church annex for a carry-in dinner and guest night with 23 members and 19 visitors present.

Evelyn DeLong, president, called the meeting to order and welcomed visitors. Reports were given and approved. The need of clothing for the clothing center for children was stressed.

The Council of Churches will be collecting Christmas decorations for the needy. The group decided to give a contribution to the Red Cross to help send items to men in Viet Nam at Christmas.

Centh Millirons was in charge of the program, "The Christian Calling to Leadership". A candlelight service was featured. Each person placed her offering on a decorative table. The meeting was closed with a prayer.

Methodist WSCS Has Dinner Meet

A carry-in dinner was featured at the October meeting of the WSCS of the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Herbert Southward, president, conducted a brief business meeting after dinner followed by the introduction of James Helt, county extension agent in 4-H, who was guest speaker.

Helt discussed the part 4-H and extension workers play in helping people of the community to "help themselves through education." He pointed out how one small project with immediate results can lead to further action and stimulate enthusiasm for further progress in the community.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Gladys Elsea. She spoke on the Bible and how it came about. She read a humorous item titled "The Diary of a Bible" which lamented the lack of use the Bible receives in modern times.

Salem Union Women Meet

The Salem Women's Christian Temperance Union met recently at the Salem Church.

Mrs. Hankins, president, opened the meeting with a prayer. A song was read in unison. "Deal Courageously" was the theme for the meditation, given by Mrs. Cleo Patrick. She also offered a scripture and prayer.

An article from the Union Signal "United Civic Action" was read by Mrs. Altha Reichelderfer.

Mrs. Hankins gave the history of the three flags, Christian, American and Temperance. The pledges were also given. Mrs. Flossie Dreisbach was welcomed as a new member.

A review from the session of County Convention at Hedges Chapel was given by the president. It was announced that Mrs. Harold Brown, state president, was the guest speaker. A discussion of the upcoming election was held.

The highlight of the program was the continuation of the dedication of daily prayer. Miniature hands, holding prayer calendars, concealed the name of a prayer partner, which was placed on the altar. The meeting closed with the benediction.

Refreshments were served on a table decorated in fall colors.

Majors Temple No. 516 Plans for Pumpkin Show

The Majors Temple No. 516 met recently in the K of P Hall with 35 members present. The highlight of the evening was the plans that were made for the pie booth at the Pumpkin Show.

Mrs. Paula Strawser, most excellent chief, presided at the business meeting. Plans were made to attend "Friendship Night" Monday with Sterling Temple No. 536. An invitation was received to attend a dinner and reception honoring Ruthella Burrington, Grand Chief of the Grand Temple of Ohio, 6:30 p. m. Saturday at the Hopkins Airport, Route 237, Cleveland.

It was announced that the Ashville Temple No. 366 would be hostess to the District 2 Convention November 9 at the Grange Hall on the Circleville Lockbourne Road. The afternoon session will convene at 2 p. m. and the evening session at 7:30 p. m. Dinner will be served by the sisters of Ashville Temple. Any past chief desiring to take the Grand Temple Degree may do so by presenting her past chief's certificate. The evening session will be under the direction of Mrs. Walden Reichelderfer, district deputy grand chief. Miss Elma L. Rains was elected as delegate from Major's Temple with Mrs. Mary Fraunfelder as alternate.

Mrs. Dorothy McClelland, grand representative, reported on the Grand Temple Session she attended in Dayton. A letter was read from Mrs. Reichelderfer, District Deputy Grand Chief.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Alice May, Mrs. Ethel Rinehart, Mrs. Roy May, Mrs. Sandra Walker and Mrs. Lucille Terry.

EUB Class Makes Plans

The Loyal Daughters Class of the First EUB Sunday School Class met Tuesday following a revival service at the church.

Mrs. Richard Merrin, president, opened the business meeting with a prayer. Reports were given. The class decided to hold a class Christmas Party December 5th at the Wardell Party home.

Those on the calendar committee are Mrs. Austin Hurley, Mrs. Charles Ater and Mrs. Elliott Mason. Mrs. Frank Hawkes offered the closing prayer.

Prizes were won by Miss Jessie Cummings and Mrs. Arthur Wilkin.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Mace Overly, Mrs. John Kerns, Mrs. Paul Dawson, Mrs. Richard Merrin and Mrs. Mary Flowers.

CHS Tigers Roll in Second Half

Inspired Effort Nets 22-12 Win

By STEVE JONES

The Circleville football team, a kitten in the first half Friday night, lived up to the name of Tiger in the second interlude by clawing the visiting Miami Trace Panthers, 22-12.

Shutout 12-0 in the first half and held to a scant total of 13½ yards, it was an inspired and determined Red and Black that roared back after intermission. Fejeaveated from stem to stern, they passed and ran for 235 yards, three touchdowns, one two-point conversion and one safety for a commanding 22 points.

The Circleville fireworks were ignited by some fancy aerial antics involving quarterback Bob Tootle and co-captain end Ron Bryant. This dandy duo was good for two touchdowns, in addition to some other spectaculars.

Tootle's ability to thread the needle and Bryant's fingertip catches seemed to give the Tigers the needed in the second half. There was no stopping the Roundtowners from then on.

MIAMI TRACE took the opening kickoff and marched 66 yards in 10 plays to come up with the first score. It took less than one half of the first period to notch the TD.

From the 15-yard line, quarterback Eddie Summers hit end Mike Henry in the end zone with a pass. An aerial attempt for the extra points was incomplete.

On the kickoff by Summers, Rick Sims took the ball at the Tiger 29 and ran it back to the 48 yard stripe, but a clipping penalty called at the 39 moved the pigskin back to the 24.

The Tigers picked up four yards in two plays while a pass from Tootle intended for Bryant fell incomplete.

The visiting Panthers took Dade's punt near their own 29.

Vikings Lose To Panthers In 34-8 Tilt

Teays Valley Gridders Have Best Offensive Performance in Loss

Teays Valley turned in its best offensive night of the year Friday, but still lost to a tough Pleasant View, 34-8, on the winners' field.

Pleasant View scored seven points in the first quarter, seven in the second, 14 in the third and six in the final period.

The Vikings' TD came in the final canto. A one yard plunge by Gregg Hall capped a scoring drive that started on the Viking 35.

Highlights of the drive were a 15-yard scamper by Tim Wells and a 12 yard run by Hall.

FACING a fourth down situation deep in Pleasant View territory, quarterback Bruce Roese kept the drive alive by hitting end Mike Lombardo with a pass that carried to the 15-yard line.

Three of the Pleasant View touchdowns came on passes. The other two were set up by aerials.

Bob Betowsky, Panther senior end who was hurt in the Circleville game, sparked the victory with his pass catching. He caught a 3-yard toss and eluded the Viking safety for the score that put the Panthers ahead 14-0 at halftime.

The first TD, a one-yard run, was set up by two passes — a 30 yarder to halfback Tony Ward and another long one to Betowsky.

Opening the second half, Hess hit Ward for two long bombs and gained the score.

Rick Erbe scored the second PV touchdown of the period and Hess picked up the final score in the last period.

TEAYS VALLEY now stands 1-4 for the season. In the Metropolitan League they have a 1-1 record. Pleasant View is 2-3 overall and 1-1 in the league. The Vikings travel to Franklin Heights Friday.

but failed to generate a drive and punted.

The Tigers managed to pick up yardage but could not generate any momentum and Steve Dade booted the ball to Scott Wilson.

CRAIG LAMBERT boomed in to Wilson before he could get a firm grip on the ball and jarred the Panther loose from the pigskin.

Steve Carroll fell on the ball on the Panther 41 yard stripe. Once again the Tiger defense was stalled and Dade punted from the 34 and the ball rolled dead on the five.

For the most part of the second quarter, both teams battled in the middle of the field. But with 1:51 to go in the half, Summers tossed a screen pass to Salyers who raced 41 yards to the Circleville 13.

From there it was Bev Lee for one, Summers for four. A Summers to Salyers pass for five and Lee for three and the touchdown. There were just 32 seconds remaining. At halftime, the score stood at 12-0.

The Tigers took the second half kickoff and moved 21 yards before they lost the ball on a fumble.

But Trace, on its first play of the second half, tossed a pass that was intercepted by Lynn Heath near the Circleville 30. This piffle may well have been the turning point. It set up the first Circleville touchdown.

ON THE first play from scrimmage, Dade lost two yards and Tommy Wright gained four on the next.

Then came a beautiful 36-yard pass play from Tootle to Bryant. As Bryant was tackled, the ball squirted out of his hands and was pounced on by a Miami Trace player. But the officials ruled the play was dead before the fumble occurred.

Dade then ran for six. On the next play Circleville was penalized five.

Then Tootle found Bryant in the end zone with a pay dirt aerial. It was a real circus catch for Bryant, who snared the ball, was hit and lost it momentarily and then grabbed it again as he was falling.

The next Tiger touchdown was set up by a fumble. Jim Samuel pounced on the ball at the Trace 42 and in four plays, Circleville was on the scoreboard again.

The first play of the series was another aerial, with Tootle doing the tossing and Bryant the catching acrobatics. It was good for 22 yards. Dade was held for no gain, Tootle picked up two through the middle and then found the big senior end open again near the end zone and Bryant pulled in the aerial and romped over for the score. It was a deadlocked game as the third period ended.

IN THE fourth quarter, Trace was forced to punt with less than two minutes gone.

The Tigers took over and mounted a drive that covered 50 yards moving the ball to the 10 yard line where Dade fumbled just when it appeared he might break through for a touchdown. The visitors recovered on the nine and the clock showed 3:14 to go.

Eddie Summers, Trace quarterback, faded back to throw a pass, could not find a receiver and started backpeddling.

Bill Gates came charging through and hurled Summers to the ground in his own end zone and the Tigers took the lead with a two-point safety.

After the safety, Miami Trace put the ball in play by kicking from the 20. The ball only went 13 yards to the Panther 33 yard marker where Doug Smith fell on it.

Six plays later, Eddie Wells added icing to the cake by ramming over from the three, dragging a couple of Panther tacklers across the goal line to make the score 20-12. Tootle hit Dade for the two point conversion and the Tigers led by 10 points.

WITH ONLY 29 seconds of playing time remaining, the game was out of sight for Trace and Circleville was already looking forward to the game at Washington C. H. next week.

The Tigers are now 2-0 in the South Central Ohio League and 4-1 over-all. Trace is 1-1 in the league and 3-2 overall.

BIG EDDIE CRACKS — Eddie Wells (50) spins off tacklers as he fights for extra yards in the Circleville-Miami Trace football clash. Jim Samuel (64) and Jim Campbell (82) offer resistance to the Trace Panthers but Ron Reiber (82), Panther defense man, hangs on.

SUPER STEVIE — Steve Dade looks downfield for his blockers as he runs back a Miami Trace punt. Tiger Pointers

Paul Starr made no secret of the fact that he is as proud of his present team as any he has ever coached.

"This has to be the greatest bunch of kids there ever was," Starr enthused. "We might not be too swift and we might not be too big, but there isn't a quitter in the bunch."

And Tiger fans who have seen the last two ball games are ready to agree with the coach.

For two games in a row, the Tigers have come from behind and taken the win away from their opponents. Down 7-6 against Greenfield last week, they scored with just 38 seconds remaining.

In last night's tilt, it looked as though Trace would make a rout of it after the first half. But the Tigers once more fought back for the win.

The Circleville - Miami Trace game was probably as complete a reversal as ever witnessed by Circleville fans.

In the first quarter, Circleville gained 19½ yards. Miami Trace gained 87 and made one touchdown. In the second quarter, Circleville showed a net loss of six yards. Trace gained 93 and scored a second touchdown. And then the Tigers came out with their teeth showing.

They bit and fought and chewed and scratched and passed for a total of 138 yards while holding the Tracers to 18.

The fourth quarter was more of the same. Circleville ground out 97 yards, limiting the Tracers to a net yardage of eight.

The encouraging thing to Circleville fans was the Tiger performance in the second half without senior stalwarts Tom Jenkins and Tom Fletcher. Jenkins is out for the season and Fletcher for an indefinite period with a hairline fracture of a carpal bone in his hand.

Both boys were on the sidelines last night. Fletcher was even completely suited up, even though he knew he could not play.

The only starting seniors were Jim Noel and Ron Bryant.

L.A. Tries For Series Comeback

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BALTIMORE (AP) — "A lot of things happened to us this year that never happened before," Sandy Koufax said.

And there probably was no better way to sum up the Los Angeles Dodgers' problems as they sent Claude Osteen to the mound against Baltimore's Wally Bunker today in the third game of the World Series.

The Dodgers will try to accomplish something that has never happened before in Series history — coming from behind to win after losing the first two games at home.

Four teams have reversed an 0-2 tailspin and gone on to the world championship since the Series became a best-of-seven showdown — the 1955 Dodgers, 1956 and 1958 Yankees and 1965 Dodgers — but all lost their first two games on the road.

In addition, Dodger Manager Walt Alston admitted after Thursday's 6-0 loss, in which the Dodgers committed a record-setting six errors, that "We've been two down before but we've never looked this bad."

The Dodgers not only looked bad on the field, but on paper as well. They collected just seven hits in the first two games for a pitiful .115 average compared with .246 for the Orioles, who have yet to make an error.

Still the picture wasn't all bleak for Alston.

"It's not so much where you play," he said. "We've just got to play better baseball."

The Dodgers did just that last year after Don Drysdale and Koufax lost the first two games at Minneapolis. Moving back to their own park, the Dodgers faced a win-or-else proposition — and the stopper was Osteen, who shut out the Twins 4-0.

"Osteen's a great competitor," Alston said. "He has a spirit. He also has real poise. I've never seen him upset. But his competitive spirit is what really sets him apart."

Osteen felt he had the odds on his side.

"When you know that we're not accustomed to playing like we have been I feel everything's going with me," he said. "We just don't play that way. We don't go out and beat ourselves three days in a row."

A crowd of standing-room-only proportions, expected to reach 55,000, began to pour into the ball park early for the Osteen-Bunker matchup. Game time was 1 p.m., EDT, with national television coverage on NBC.

Greenview Tops Plains In DVL Battle

Greenview Defeated The Plains of Mt. Sterling, 20-12, in a Darby Valley League competition on the winners' gridiron. The Plains has a 3-1 record overall and a 2-1 record in the DVL. Greenview is 4-1 and 3-1 in the league.

The Plains had 11 first downs and gained 134 yards rushing. They completed four of 12 passes for 37 yards. Greenview gained 163 yards rushing, had nine first downs and completed two of two for 35 yards. They had nine first downs.

The Plains touchdowns were scored by Evans and Rob Wiseman.

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Noble Victory, who drew the No. 1 post position, was the odds-on choice to win the $50,000 Gotham Trot at Yonkers Raceway tonight.

Braves Wallop Westfall In 70-6 Scoring Spree

Logan Elm walloped Westfall Friday night in the Braves' Homecoming, piling up a 70-6 margin against their cross county rivals.

It was a school scoring record for Logan Elm. The previous high was a 68-29 decision over Laurelville the last year the Wildcats fielded a team.

The Braves never let up offensively against the young Mustangs.

Logan Elm took the opening kickoff and in six plays moved across the goal line with full-back Jim Moorehead plunging for the final three yards. The score came with 9:15 remaining in the canto.

THE second Brave TD came just 2½ minutes later. Once again Moorehead carried the ball, this time from six yards out.

Then it was Westfall's turn to score. Bob Timmons took a 15-yard pass from Greg Bigham and carried into the end zone with 4:50 showing on the clock.

The third score of the first period was a 41-yard pass play. Halfback Dale Jenne snared Tom Smith's heave and raced into the end zone with 1:50 to go.

The Smith to Jenne combination worked for the two-point conversion. Midway through the second quarter Jenne took a Mustang punt on the opponents 30 yard stripe and raced into the end zone again. Moorehead kicked the extra points.

Buddy McAfee was the next Logan Elm player to get into the scoring act, teaming up with Smith on another 41-yard pass play.

A halfback pass, Tim Huffman to Jenne, worked for the two-point conversion.

JUST before the half Moorehead went 13 yards for a touchdown and the Smith and Jenne aerial team again picked up the two-point conversion.

Steelers Seek Upset Victory

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers came steaming up the turnpike for tonight's game with the Cleveland Browns, and they make no bones about it—they're looking for an upset victory over the heavily favored Browns.

Pittsburgh coach Bill Austin says his Steelers are in good shape and are prime for victory. The Browns also are in pretty good physical condition, but that isn't what concerns coach Blanton Collier. He is more interested in the team's mental condition at the moment.

In their first four games, the Browns have looked good on occasion but have had some lapses.

"One of the players—I guess it was Dick Schafrath—said that we haven't jelled," Collier remarked. "Well, this would be a good time for us to do just that."

The coach said the Browns have "played pretty good football most of the time but little things have hurt us. Ten of the men will carry out assignments, but the 11th man can mess up an entire play."

Some 80,000 fans are expected to jam Municipal Stadium for the Saturday evening game with Pittsburgh, which has become a fixture on the Browns' schedule in recent years. In regular season games between the two clubs, the Browns hold a heavy advantage — 24 victories to eight for the Steelers.

In Sunday's key NFL games, Eastern Conference-leading St. Louis, bidding for its fifth straight victory, entertains New York, 0-3-1, and Green Bay's Western Conference pace-setters put their 4-0 mark on the line at San Francisco.

Elsewhere, Baltimore, 2-1, is at Chicago, 1-2; Los Angeles, 3-1 at Detroit, 2-2; Philadelphia, 2-2 at Dallas, 3-0 and Atlanta, 3-4 at Washington, 2-2.

In American Football League play tonight, San Diego visits New York in a battle of unbeaten division leaders while Boston is at Buffalo and Denver at Kansas City. Oakland plays host to Miami in Sunday's AFL game.

Gov. Armbró Wins Futurity

Bret Hanover Sets Pace Mark

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — It takes three heads to wear this year's triple crown of trotting. Governor Armbró, once considered a bridesmaid, made it to the altar Friday when the pride of Ontario, Canada, won the $33,860 first prize in the Kentucky Futurity, third gem in the crown.

With veteran driver Joe O'Brien doing the rein work, Governor Armbró finished 144 lengths in front in the first heat and 1 length ahead in the second to wrap it up in quick time.

His victory, however, was almost overshadowed at the Lexington Trots when Bret Hanover set a world record for a pacer in a time trial.

Bret Hanover, driven by Frank Erwin, was timed in fractions of 1:27 4-5, 1:55 2-5, 1:34 and 1:54 3-5 to lower his own mile record set this year by two fiftieths of a second.

Governor Armbró, owned by the Armstrong Brothers of Brampton, Ontario, began a long, slow move early in the first heat and cashed it in with a stretch rush.

In the second heat, Governor Armbró came from far off the pace and closed outside two tiring horses.

Gay Sam, owned by Samuel Coil of Washington Courthouse, Ohio, was second in the first heat and third in the second. The son of Sampson Hanover finished scored in the over-all standings.

Shatter Way, owned by Kurt Hellberg of Mellerud, Sweden, was third in the standings after finishing fifth and second.

Polaris, winner of the Yonkers Futurity, the triple's first leg, was a disappointing sixth and seventh. Driver-trainer George Sholtz said the colt "just didn't have it."

Owner Douses Rumors of Sale

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oilers owner K. S. (Bud) Adams doused rumors his team was up for grabs Friday when he said, "They're not for sale."

Adams, owner of the American Football League team since it was christened six years ago, said earlier this week he would consider selling the Oilers if the price was attractive enough.

In explanation Friday, Adams said, "Anything I've got is for sale—if the price is right."

There had been reports wealthy oilman John Mecom Jr. of Houston was interested in buying the club.

Star Coach Leaves

ARCHBOLD, Ohio (AP) — Coach Bill Arthur of Archbold High School, an inductee into the Ohio scholastic coaching hall of fame last year, announced his resignation Friday effective Nov. 1. After 16 years' coaching, Arthur will become a salesman for a food firm here.

Ernie Ladd, defensive line-man for the Houston Oilers, lost 18 pounds the first day of training this summer. He went to camp at 323 pounds.

CHS Tigers Roll in Second Half

Inspired Effort Nets 22-12 Win

By STEVE JONES

The Circleville football team, a kitten in the first half Friday night, lived up to the name of Tiger in the second interlude by clawing the visiting Miami Trace Panthers, 22-12.

Shutout 12-0 in the first half and held to a scant total of 13½ yards, it was an inspired and determined Red and Black that roared back after intermission. Rejuvenated from stem to stern, they passed and ran for 235 yards, three touchdowns, one two-point conversion and one safety for a commanding 22 points.

The Circleville fireworks were ignited by some fancy aerial antics involving quarterback Bob Tootle and co-captain end Ron Bryant. This dandy duo was good for two touchdowns, in addition to some other spectaculars.

First downs passing	12	11
First downs rushing	9	6
First downs by punts	0	1
Total first downs	21	18
Net yards passing	112	114
Net yards rushing	138	102
Total yards gained	250	216
Passes attempted	10	12
Passes completed	6	7
Interceptions by	1	1
Fumbles	5	2
Fumbles lost	3	2
Punts	4(40)	4(30)
Penalty yardage	32	15

Tootle's ability to thread the needle and Bryant's fingertip catches seemed to give the Tigers the lift needed in the second half. There was no stopping the Roundtowners from then on.

MIAMI TRACE took the opening kickoff and marched 66 yards in 10 plays to come up with the first score. It took less than one half of the first period to notch the TD.

From the 15-yard line, quarterback Eddie Summers hit end Mike Henry in the end zone with a pass. An aerial attempt for the extra points was incomplete.

On the kickoff by Summers Rick Sims took the ball at the Tiger 29 and ran it back to the 48 yard stripe, but a clipping penalty called at the 39 moved the pigskin back to the 24.

The Tigers picked up four yards in two plays while a pass from Tootle intended for Bryant fell incomplete.

The visiting Panthers took Dade's punt near their own 29

but failed to generate a drive and punted.

The Tigers managed to pick up yardage but could not generate any momentum and Steve Dade booted the ball to Scott Wilson.

CRAIG LAMBERT boomed in to Wilson before he could get a firm grip on the ball and jarred the Panther loose from the pigskin.

Steve Carroll fell on the ball on the Panther 41 yard stripe. Once again the Tiger defense was stalled and Dade punted from the 34 and the ball rolled dead on the five.

For the most part of the second quarter, both teams battled in the middle of the field. But with 1:51 to go in the half, Summers tossed a screen pass to Salyers who raced 41 yards to the Circleville 13.

From there it was Bev Lee for one, Summers for four. A Summers to Salyers pass for five and Lee for three and the touchdown. There were just 32 seconds remaining. At half-time, the score stood at 12-0.

The Tigers took the second half kickoff and moved 21 yards before they lost the ball on a fumble.

But Trace, on its first play of the second half, tossed a pass that was intercepted by Lynn Heath near the Circleville 30. This pifer may well have been the turning point. It set up the first Circleville touchdown.

ON THE first play from scrimmage, Dade lost two yards and Tommy Wright gained four on the next.

Then came a beautiful 36-yard pass play from Tootle to Bryant. As Bryant was tackled, the ball squirted out of his hands and was pounced on by a Miami Trace player. But the officials ruled the play was dead before the fumble occurred.

Dade then ran for six. On the next play Circleville was penalized five.

Then Tootle found Bryant in the end zone with a pay dirt aerial. It was a real circus catch for Bryant, who snared the ball, was hit and lost it momentarily and then grabbed it again as he was falling.

The next Tiger touchdown was set up by a fumble. Jim Samuel pounced on the ball at the Trace 42 and in four plays, Circleville was on the scoreboard again.

The first play of the series was another aerial, with Tootle doing the tossing and Bryant the catching acrobatics. It was good for 22 yards. Dade was held for no gain. Tootle picked up two through the middle and then found the big senior end open again near the end zone and Bryant pulled in the aerial and romped over for the score. It was a deadlocked game as the third period ended.

IN THE fourth quarter, Trace was forced to punt with less than two minutes gone.

The Tigers took over and mounted a drive that covered 50 yards moving the ball to the 10 yard line where Dade fumbled just when it appeared he might break through for a touchdown. The visitors recovered on the nine and the clock showed 3:14 to go.

Eddie Summers, Trace quarterback, faked back to throw a pass, could not find a receiver and started backpeddling.

Bill Gates came charging through and hurled Summers to the ground in his own end zone and the Tigers took the lead with a two-point safety.

After the safety, Miami Trace put the ball in play by kicking from the 20. The ball only went 13 yards to the Panther 33 yard marker where Doug Smith fell on it.

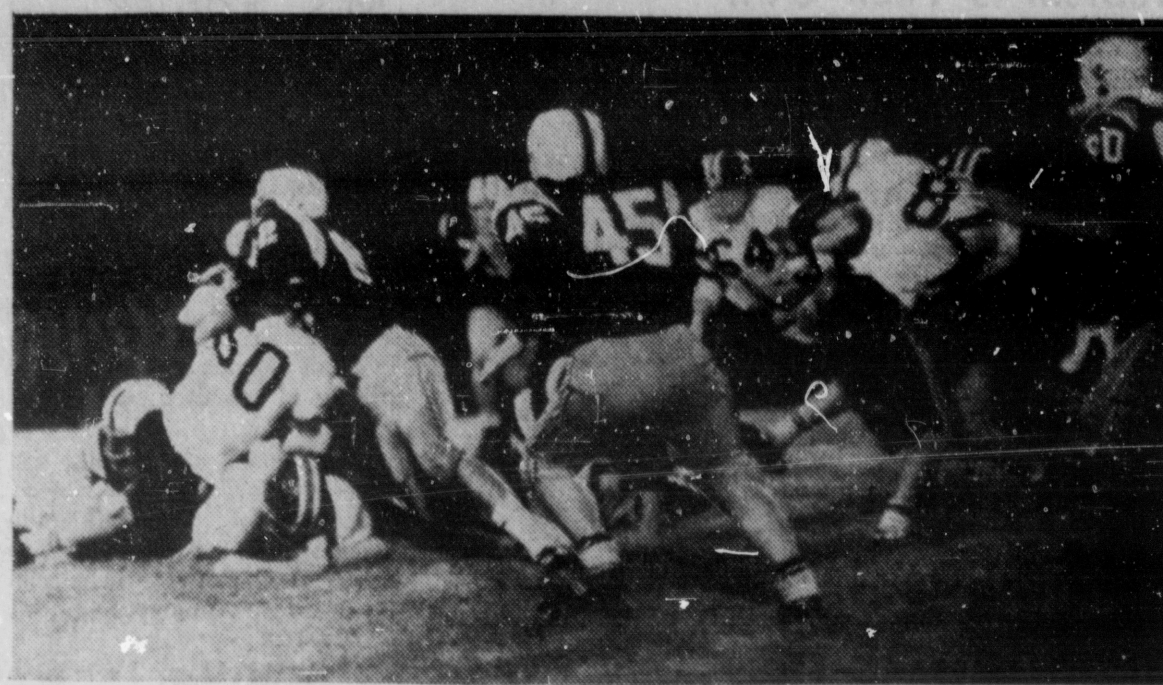

Six plays later, Eddie Wells added icing to the cake by ramming over from the three, dragging a couple of Panther tacklers across the goal line to make the score 20-12. Tootle hit Dade for the two point conversion and the Tigers led by 10 points.

WITH ONLY 29 seconds of playing time remaining, the game was out of sight for Trace and Circleville was already looking forward to the game at Washington C. H. next week.

The Tigers are now 2-0 in the South Central Ohio League and 4-1 over-all. Trace is 1-1 in the league and 3-2 overall.

BIG EDDIE CRACKS — Eddie Wells (50) spins off tacklers as he fights for extra yards in the Circleville-Miami Trace football clash. Jim Samuel (64) and Jim Campbell (82) offer resistance to the Trace Panthers but Ron Reiber (82), Panther defense man, hangs on.

SUPER STEVIE — Steve Dade looks downfield for his blockers as he runs back a Miami Trace punt. The junior brother of Garold and Hodge Dade, CHS stars in their own times, is making a name for himself throughout the league with his fine running ability, along with his sure-footed punting.

Tiger Pointers

Paul Starr made no secret of the fact that he is as proud of his present team as any he has ever coached.

"This has to be the greatest bunch of kids there ever was," Starr enthused. "We might not be too swift and we might not be too big, but there isn't a quitter in the bunch."

And Tiger fans who have seen the last two ball games are ready to agree with the coach.

For two games in a row, the Tigers have come from behind and taken the win away from their opponents. Down 7-6 against Greerfield last week, they scored with just 38 seconds remaining.

In last night's tilt, it looked as though Trace would make a rout of it after the first half. But the Tigers once more fought back for the win.

The Circleville - Miami Trace game was probably as complete a reversal as ever witnessed by Circleville fans.

In the first quarter, Circleville gained 19½ yards. Miami Trace gained 87 and made one touchdown. In the second quarter, Circleville showed a net loss of six yards. Trace gained 93 and scored a second touchdown.

And then the Tigers came out with their teeth showing.

They bit and fought and chewed and scratched and passed for a total of 138 yards while holding the Tracers to 18.

The fourth quarter was more of the same. Circleville ground out 97 yards, limiting the Tracers to a net yardage of eight.

The encouraging thing to Circleville fans was the Tiger performance in the second half without senior stalwarts Tom Jenkins and Tom Fletcher. Jenkins is out for the season and Fletcher for an indefinite period with a hairline fracture of a carpal bone in his hand.

Both boys were on the sidelines last night. Fletcher was even completely suited up, even though he knew he could not play.

The only starting seniors were Jim Noel and Ron Bryant.

Filling in for Fletcher at line-backer was a sophomore, Jim Samuel; at halfback a junior, Tom Wright.

"There were no individual stars in this game," Coach Starr said. "I would have to name everybody that played if I were to pick out the stars."

"How about that Gates hitting their quarterback in the end zone. And Tootle's passing and Bryant's catching or the blocking of the entire interior line."

"And those boys did a wonderful job filling in. That old Fletcher is going to have to earn his spot back when he can play again."

For fans who find these come-from-behind games so exciting, Starr has the answer: "I took a double dose of tranquilizers tonight," he explained his calmness.

Defensively, Steve Dade was in on six tackles, as was Jim Noel. Jim Campbell and Jim Samuel and Steve Carroll had five tackles and Samuel was also credited with two assists.

Craig Lambert and Rick Sims had four tackles. Lynn Heath, Bill Gates, Rod Sines and Doug Smith had three each. Myers and Wells had two each. This was a far cry from last week when Fletcher had 19 tackles, plus a flock of assists.

For the visitors, Marty Smith a line-backer and Greg Armbrust, a guard were in on 13 and 12 tackles respectively.

Dade was the leading ball carrier for Circleville, gaining 104 yards in 24 carries — a 4.3 yard per try average. Eddie Wells gained 32 yards in eight carries for a four yard average and Tommy Wright eight yards in two carries.

The most successful passing game of the season accounted for 113 yards. Tootle completed six of 10 tries, including two to Bryant for TDs. Bryant's catches totaled 107 yards.

For Miami Trace, Ron Salyers carried 13 times for 49 yards and Bev Lee carried 13 times for 43 yards.

Six collegians ran back knock-offs 100 yards during the 1965 football season. Three others covered 99 yards.

L.A. Tries For Series Comeback

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BALTIMORE (AP) — "A lot of things happened to us this year that never happened before," Sandy Koufax said.

And there probably was no better way to sum up the Los Angeles Dodgers' problems as they sent Claude Osteen to the mound against Baltimore's Wally Bunker today in the third game of the World Series.

The Dodgers will try to accomplish something that has never happened before in Series history — coming from behind to win after losing the first two games at home.

Four teams have reversed an 0-2 tailspin and gone on to the world championship since the Series became a best-of-seven showdown — the 1955 Dodgers, 1956 and 1958 Yankees and 1965 Dodgers — but all lost their first two games on the road.

In addition, Dodger Manager Walt Alston admitted after Thursday's 6-0 loss, in which the Dodgers committed a record-setting six errors, that "We've been two down before but we've never looked this bad."

The Dodgers not only looked bad on the field, but on paper as well. They collected just seven hits in the first two games for a pitiful .115 average compared with .246 for the Orioles, who have yet to make an error.

Still the picture wasn't all bleak for Alston.

"It's not so much where you play," he said. "We've just got to play better baseball."

The Dodgers did just that last year after Don Drysdale and Koufax lost the first two games at Minneapolis. Moving back to their own park, the Dodgers faced a win-or-lose proposition — and the stopper was Osteen, who shut out the Twins 4-0.

"Osteen's a great competitor," Alston said. "He has spirit. He also has real poise. I've never seen him upset. But his competitive spirit is what really sets him apart."

Osteen felt he had the odds on his side.

"When you know that we're not accustomed to playing like we have been I feel everything's going with me," he said. "We just don't play that way. We don't go out and beat ourselves three days in a row."

A crowd of standing-room-only proportions, expected to reach 55,000, began to pour into the ball park early for the Osteen-Bunker matchup. Game time was 1 p.m., EDT, with national television coverage on NBC.

Greenview Tops Plains In DVL Battle

Greenview Defeated The Plains of Mt. Sterling, 20-12, in a Darby Valley League competition on the winners' gridiron.

The Plains has a 3-1 record overall and a 2-1 record in the DVL. Greenview is 4-1 and 3-1 in the league.

The Plains had 11 first downs and gained 134 yards rushing. They completed four of 12 passes for 37 yards.

Greenview gained 163 yards rushing, had nine first downs and completed two of two for 35 yards. They had nine first downs.

The Plains touchdowns were scored by Evans and Rob Wiseman.

Braves Wallop Westfall

In 70-6 Scoring Spree

Logan Elm walloped Westfall Friday night in the Braves' Homecoming, piling up a 70-6 margin against their cross county rivals.

It was a school scoring record for Logan Elm. The previous high was a 68-20 decision over Laurelville the last year the Wildcats fielded a team.

The Braves never let up offensively against the young Mustangs.

Logan Elm took the opening kickoff and in six plays moved across the goal line with full-back Jim Moorehead plunging for the final three yards. The score came with 9:15 remaining in the canto.

THE second Brave TD came just 2½ minutes later. Once again Moorehead carried the ball, this time from six yards out.

Then it was Westfall's turn to score. Bob Timmons took a 15-yard pass from Greg Bigham and carried into the end zone with 4:50 showing on the clock.

The third score of the first period was a 41-yard pass play. Halfback Dale Jenne snared Tom Smith's heave and raced into the end zone with 1:50 to go.

The Smith to Jenne combination worked for the two-point conversion. Midway through the second quarter Jenne took a Mustang punt on the opponents 30 yard stripe and raced into the end zone again. Moorehead kicked the extra points.

Buddy McAfee was the next Logan Elm player to get into the scoring act, teaming up with Smith on another 41-yard pass play.

A halfback pass, Tim Huffman to Jenne, worked for the two-point conversion.

JUST before the half Moorehead went 13 yards for a touchdown and the Smith and Jenne aerial team again picked up the two-point conversion.

The third quarter scoring opened with a pass play covering 52 yards, and it was Smith to Jenne combination again. Moorehead booted the conversion.

Twice more in the third period, Logan Elm scored. Larry Stant scored from one yard out and Jenne returned another punt, this time 40 yards, for the touchdown.

The last quarter went scoreless until just 1:45 remained. At that point, Huffman picked up a tally on a one-yard plunge and Moorehead carried for the two extra points.

Logan Elm piled up 457 yards rushing and passing. Westfall had a total of 35 yards.

Penalty yardage must have been near a record for the Braves. They were penalized a total of 140 yards. Westfall was penalized five yards.

LEADING groundgainer for

Logan Elm was Moorehead with 89 yards in 14 carries. Huffman had 62 yards in nine carries.

The Braves punted only once, compared to six times for Westfall.

The Mustangs turned the ball over three times on pass interceptions and two times on lost fumbles. The Braves fumbled once.

Logan Elm had 14 first downs and Westfall picked up six.

Westfall now stands 0-3 in the Scioto Valley Conference and is 0-5 overall. It was the Braves' first game in the SVC. They have won three and lost two for the season.

The next action for Logan Elm comes next Saturday when they travel to New Lexington St. Aloysius. Westfall has two open dates on their schedule before meeting Paint Valley Oct. 28 on the Mustang field.

Steelers Seek Upset Victory

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers come steaming up the turnpike for tonight's game with the Cleveland Browns, and they make no bones about it—they're looking for an upset victory over the heavily favored Browns.

Pittsburgh coach Bill Austin says his Steelers are in good shape and are prime for victory. The Browns also are in pretty good physical condition, but that isn't what concerns coach Blanton Collier. He is more interested in the team's mental condition at the moment.

In their first four games, the Browns have looked good on occasion but have had some lapses.

"One of the players—I guess it was Dick Schafrath—said that we haven't jelled," Collier remarked. "Well, this would be a good time for us to do just that."

The coach said the Browns have "played pretty good football most of the time but little things have hurt us. Ten of the men will carry out assignments, but the 11th man can mess up an entire play."

Some 80,000 fans are expected to jam Municipal Stadium for the Saturday evening game with Pittsburgh, which has become a fixture on the Browns' schedule in recent years. In regular season games between the two clubs, the Browns hold a heavy advantage — 24 victories to eight for the Steelers.

In Sunday's key NFL games, Eastern Conference-leading St. Louis, bidding for its fifth straight victory, entertains New York, 0-3-1, and Green Bay's Western Conference pace-setters put their 4-0 mark on the line at San Francisco.

Elsewhere, Baltimore, 2-1, is at Chicago, 1-2; Los Angeles, 3-1 at Detroit, 2-2; Philadelphia, 2-2 at Dallas, 3-0 and Atlanta, 0-4 at Washington, 2-2.

In American Football League action, tonight, San Diego visits New York in a battle of unbeaten division leaders while Boston is at Buffalo and Denver at Kansas City. Oakland plays host to Miami in Sunday's AFL game.

Gov. Armbró Wins Futurity

Bret Hanover Sets Pace Mark

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — It takes three heads to wear this year's triple crown of trotting. Governor Armbró, once considered a bridesmaid, made it to the altar Friday when the pride of Ontario, Canada, won the $33,860 first prize in the Kentucky Futurity, third gem in the crown.

With veteran driver Joe O'Brien doing the rein work, Governor Armbró finished 144 lengths in front in the first heat and 1 length ahead in the second to wrap it up in quick time.

His victory, however, was almost overshadowed at the Lexington Trots when Bret Hanover set a world record for a pacer in a time trial.

Bret Hanover, driven by Frank Erwin, was timed in fractions of 1:27 4-5, 1:55 2-5, 1:34 and 1:54 3-5 to lower his own mile record set this year by two fifths of a second.

Governor Armbró, owned by the Armstrong Brothers of Brampton, Ontario, began a long, slow move early in the first heat and cashed it in with a stretch rush.

In the second heat, Governor Armbró came from far off the pace and closed outside two tiring horses.

Gay Sam, owned by Samuel Coil of Washington Courthouse, Ohio, was second in the first heat and third in the second. The son of Sampson Hanover finished scored in the over-all standings.

Shatter Way, owned by Kurt Heilberg of Mellerud, Sweden, was third in the standings after finishing fifth and second. Polaris, winner of the Yonkers Futurity, the triple's first leg, was a disappointing fourth and seventh. Driver-trainer George Sholly said the colt "just didn't have it."

Ohio's Top 10 Class AA

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—How Ohio's Top Ten Class AA teams in The Associated Press high school football ratings fared Friday night:

No. 1, Steubenville (5-0-0) beat Cincinnati Taft 42-16.

No. 2, Sandusky (5-0-0) beat Lorain Senior 20-12.

No. 3, Massillon (3-0-1) plays No. 4 Niles (4-0-0) tonight.

No. 5, Upper Arlington (5-0-0) beat Mount Vernon 60-6.

No. 6, Warren Harding (4-1-0) beat Akron South 50-0.

No. 7, Mansfield Senior (3-1-1) lost to Lorain Adm. King (3-2-0), 20-14.

No. 8, Lima Senior (4-1-0) lost to Hamilton Garfield (5-0-0), 41-0.

No. 9, Columbus Watterston (5-0-0) beat Newark 30-7.

No. 10, Cincinnati Elder (5-0-0) beat Cincinnati LaSalle 26-0.

Star Coach Leaves

ARCHOLD, Ohio (AP) — Coach Bill Arthur of Archbold High School, an inductee into the Ohio scholastic coaching hall of fame last year, announced his resignation Friday effective Nov. 1. After 16 years' coaching, Arthur will become a salesman for a food firm here.

Vikings Lose To Panthers In 34-8 Tilt

Teays Valley Gridders Have Best Offensive Performance in Loss

Teays Valley turned in its best offensive night of the year Friday, but still lost to a tough Pleasant View, 34-8, on the winners' field.

Pleasant View scored seven points in the first quarter, seven in the second, 14 in the third and six in the final period.

The Vikings' TD came in the final canto. A one yard plunge by Gregg Hall capped a scoring drive that started on the Viking 35.

Highlights of the drive were a 15-yard scamper by Tim Wells and a 12-yard run by Hall.

FACING a fourth down situation deep in Pleasant View territory, quarterback Bruce Roese kept the drive alive by hitting end Mike Lombardo with a pass that carried to the 15-yard line.

Three of the Pleasant View touchdowns came on passes. The other two were set up by aerials.

Bob Betowsky, Panther senior end who was hurt in the Circleville game, sparked the victory with his pass catching. He caught a 3-yard toss and eluded the Viking safety for the score that put the Panthers ahead 14-0 at halftime.

The first TD, a one-yard run, was set up by two passes — a 30 yarder to halfback Tony Ward and another long one to Betowsky.

Opening the second half, Hess hit Ward for two long bombs and gained the score.

Rick Erbe scored the second PV touchdown of the period and Hess picked up the final score in the last period.

TEAYS VALLEY now stands 1-4 for the season. In the Metropolitan League they have a 1-1 record. Pleasant View is 2-3 overall and 1-1 in the league.

The Vikings travel to Franklin Heights Friday.

Saltcreek Valley

The 4-H Clubs and Ball Banquet was held last Saturday evening at the Logan Elm High School. A large crowd was present and a nice cafeteria supper served.

Dick Reichelderfer spent last week with his mother, Mrs. Dora Reichelderfer in Columbus.

Krystal Luckhart spent last week with her grandparents here.

Nellie Mowery called on Mrs. Hazel Balthaser Thursday. Mrs. Balthaser has been on the sick list and Mrs. Roanne Spung, her daughter, is with her.

Mr. Demiah Flesher of Albany, Ind., attended the funeral of Mr. Lewis Dresbach last Wednesday at the Frank E. Smith funeral home in Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. John White of Marcy and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dunkle of Walnut Twp. were callers in the Valley last Sunday afternoon.

The following attended the wedding last Saturday of Miss Linda Lee Bloomfield to Mr. Jerry Huffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reinald Huffman, Portsmouth at the First Church of Nazarene: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Luckhart, Diane, and Dacia and David Luckhart and Mrs. Nellie Mowery and Virginia, Wayne, Diane and Dacia stayed until Sunday evening with the C. M. Huffman family.

An error was printed in the obituary of Mrs. Lillian Dresbach Huffman of Portsmouth, Ohio. All the children live in Portsmouth, O. except Charles M. Jr. of Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Jones attended a banquet and program in Columbus last Monday evening sponsored by the Monarch Grocery Co.

Gov. Rhodes

(Continued from Page One) light at the fairgrounds for a few hours after the GOP convention will be the appearance of U.S. Sen. Robert Kennedy at a $50-a-plate Democratic fund-raising dinner.

Word seeping from speech-drafting huddles of the governor with top aides made it evident that Rhodes would lay out a program for "the greatest transition of the state in its history."

It was indicated that the "meat and potatoes" program would stress teamwork with a positive look toward the future.

Ingredients were tipped as including — besides education — research and development, transportation with aid to traffic-clogged cities, natural resources and recreation, and welfare embracing poor relief, mental hygiene, aid to youth, and unemployment and workmen's compensation.

Woman Injured In 2-Car Mishap

A Circleville woman received minor injuries in a two-car accident 5:55 p. m. Friday at E. Franklin and Pickaway Sts.

Mrs. Geraldine (Ralph) May, 43, of 1134 Atwater Ave., was taken to Berger Hospital after complaining of a neck injury. Driver of the second auto involved was Mrs. Ida M. Mitchell, 65, of 123 W. High St. According to city police investigating officer, Wesley Barton, Mrs. May said she had stopped for the traffic light at the intersection when the Mitchell vehicle struck her auto in the rear.

Only minor damage to the vehicles was listed on the accident report. No citations were issued.

School Lunch Week Proclaimed

The week of Oct. 9 through the 15 has been declared School Lunch Week in Ohio by Gov. James Rhodes.

This marks the 20th anniversary of the national school lunch program.

Fire Levels Large Barn

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a barn and its contents on Route 674 in Washington Twp. early today.

The burning barn, on the Robert Weaver farm, was discovered by a passing motorist at 2:55 a. m. The Clearcreek Twp. Volunteer Fire Department was called to the scene.

The barn, a 40 by 70 foot structure, contained 400 bales of hay and 400 bales of straw. In addition, a farm elevator near the barn was damaged.

Loss was estimated at $8,000 by firemen. The building and contents were partially insured, they said.

Legislative Candidate Attends Convention

Everett Beers, Walnut Twp. farmer and candidate for State Representative of the 21st District, is a local delegate attending the Republican Convention today at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Beers was also selected by the delegates of the Sixth Congressional District as a representative on the Resolutions Committee. He will help form the GOP platform for the party in the upcoming elections.

Wildlife Reports One Hunting Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Wildlife Division reported Friday there has been one fatal hunting accident and nine minor injuries since squirrel season started Sept. 25. This compares with four fatalities and 26 non-fatal injury accidents in the corresponding 1965 period.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. GOLDIE HIMROD
Mrs. Goldie Himrod, 85, Lexington, O., died noon Friday in a hospital at Mansfield, O.

Mrs. Himrod was born April 2, 1892, in Pickaway Twp., the daughter of Daniel C. and Susan Karr Betz. She was preceded in death by her husband, Ralph Himrod.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. George (Constance) Hall, Lexington; two grandchildren; seven great-grandchildren; a brother, Paul Betz, Route 4.

Services will be 2:30 p. m. Monday in Defenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. Donald Shilling officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Bellwether

(Continued from Page 1) presented by Rep. N. Neiman Craley Jr., trying to repeat a 1964 victory over former Rep. George A. Goodling in the southern Pennsylvania district in which former President Dwight D. Eisenhower lives, and Lynn E. Stalbaum, again pitted against former Rep. Henry S. Schadeberg in the Racine-Kenosha area of southeastern Wisconsin.

All six districts elected Republicans in 1966 when Democrats held a 234-231 House advantage despite Eisenhower's landslide victory. But all went Democratic in 1968, when Democrats won 283 seats to 153 for the Republicans.

In 1969, when Republicans gained 21 seats to deny the late President John F. Kennedy a working majority in the House, all but Moeller's district went back into Republican hands. In 1962, Republicans were elected in all six districts as the Democratic majority dropped from 262-175 to 258-176.

The Johnson landslide of 1964 returned the districts to Democratic control and gave Congress the biggest Democratic majority since 1936.

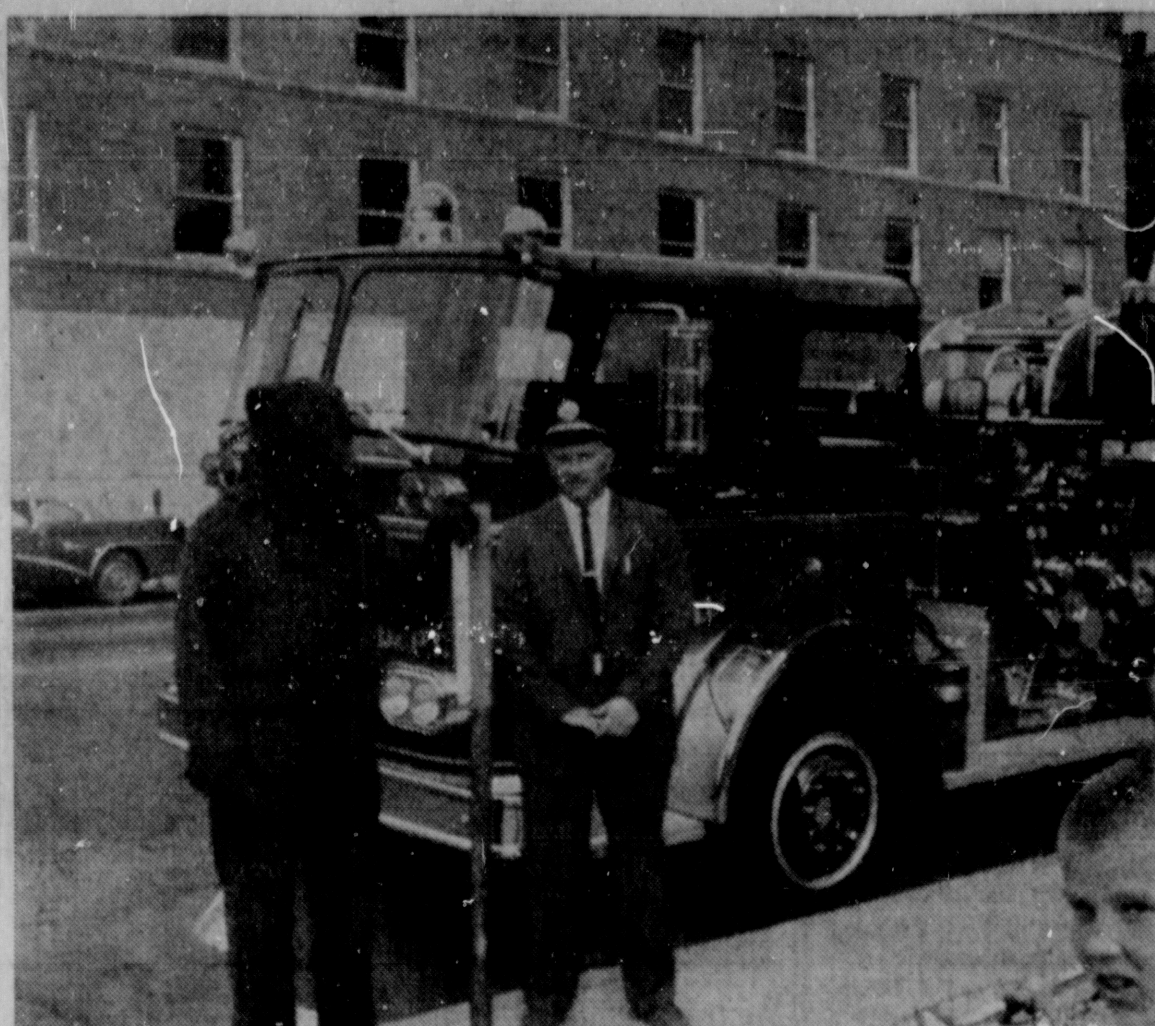

Three Treated For Lacerations

Three persons were treated Friday at Berger Hospital for lacerations. All were released.

Wayne Lindsey, 31, Route 1, Stoutsville, received lacerations to his right finger while working at Lincoln Plastics.

Robert Huff, 21, Chillicothe, was treated after he lacerated his right finger while working at Owens-Illinois.

Daniel Hedges, 20 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hedges, Route 1, Ashville, fell at home and lacerated his forehead.

FIREMAN AND FRIEND — Circleville Fire Lt. Mike Brown and "Smoky the Bear" caught the eye of passersby in the downtown area today. The pair of "firemen" and the city's new aerial ladder wagon were stationed at Court and Main Sts. today in observance of National Fire Prevention Week. Firemen, taking turns at the downtown posts, also distributed home fire safety check lists to shoppers. The observance is a joint effort of the Fire Department and Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

U.S. Strikes

(Continued from Page One) two-man crew. Both fliers were reported missing. The loss was the 395th U.S. plane to go down over North Viet Nam since the air war started in August 1964.

The U.S. Command also reported an Air Force B57 Canberra bomber was shot down while on a strike mission in South Viet Nam today, the 126th plane loss of the war in the south. Both fliers aboard the Canberra bailed out and were rescued 15 miles northeast of Da Nang.

In raids over North Viet Nam Friday, U.S. Air Force pilots hit the same stretch of Route 191 north of Dien Bien Phu that they hit the day before. Pilots reported damaging seven trucks and a road grader, setting off fires and explosions in a storage area, and causing a landslide of a section of road which dropped into a gorge.

Navy pilots from the aircraft carriers Oriskany, Intrepid and Coral Sea reported destroying or damaging 56 coastal and inland cargo barges.

Overall, U.S. pilots claimed destroying or damaging 14 bridges, 12 supply and storage buildings, 20 boxcars and a locomotive, 15 trucks and two anti-aircraft gun sites.

Inez Catches

He said 10 persons scrambled aboard the raft after La Esperanza overturned. Eight were washed overboard.

"We tried to help each other on the raft," he said, "but we kept getting seasick. One by one, they slipped away."

Gonzalez said he doesn't know what happened to those who didn't make it aboard the raft. "I saw some people climbing onto the boat's bottom and saw others in the water."

A 24-foot boat matching the description of La Esperanza was discovered by a cabin cruiser Friday about 24 miles east of Miami. The Coast Guard, which towed the capsized vessel to port, said nobody was aboard.

The hunt today concentrated on a section from Fort Pierce, on the east coast, to the Marquesas Keys, 300 miles to the south, 12,000 square miles of water.

Toastmasters Organize Local Unit

The Circleville Toastmasters Club will hold its first dinner meeting 6 p. m. Thursday at the L-K Restaurant.

The program theme at the first meeting will be "What Is Toastmastering All About?"

Speakers and honored guests will include Rollo Dawson, district governor from Dayton; Carl Harrington, area governor from Columbus; Mark Emerson, assistant area governor from Columbus; David Willingham, president of the Columbus AGOISSI Toastmasters Club; Jim Cole, president of the Columbus Battelle Toastmasters Club; and Jack Clifford, first place winner of the area humorous speech contest.

Future club meetings will be held each second and fourth Thursday at the L-K Restaurant. Membership is open to men over 18 years of age who seek to improve their speaking ability. This training is given through a basic training course, an advanced training course, and a leadership course.

The club has one common purpose: to develop the community's most important asset — its people. Future activities will include a community youth program and the Circleville speakers bureau.

Those interested in becoming members and attending the first meeting call Bill Kirkpatrick, 474-4729, before Tuesday for further information and dinner reservations.

Kent State Student Pledges Sorority

Marlene Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Brown, 138 1/2 E. High St., has been pledged to Alpha Chi Omega social sorority at Kent State University, Kent, O.

Miss Brown, a graduate of Circleville High School, is beginning her sophomore year and enrolled in the College of Education.

Senior Ann Spicer Reigns At Homecoming Festivities

Crowning of the 1966 Circleville High School homecoming queen took place Friday during the football clash between the Tigers and the Miami Trace Panthers.

Named queen was Ann Spicer, a CHS senior. She was crowned by Mike Woodward, president of the senior class and escorted onto the field by Mike Hulse, vice president of the Key Club.

Senior attendant was Jeannie Allen. Her escort was Fritz Jacobs Jr., president of the Hi-Y Club. Melissa Willoughby, escorted by Tom Evans, Key Club president, was chosen as junior attendant.

Sue Aller was picked as sophomore attendant. Her escort was Tom Tootle, vice president of Hi-Y.

BEFORE the tilt began the CHS marching band took the field to present their program. They strutted out with a show of such Latin-American favorites as "The Mexican Hat Dance," "La Cucaracha," and "Cha, Cha, Cha" with accompanying dance steps.

The percussion section and majorettes added flair to the music with timbali, bongo and congo drums, castanets and temple blocks.

The band then went into the modern world of Latin-America with "Brasilita."

Following the show the band formed the CHS monogram, playing the "Red and Black" before being joined by the Miami Trace band for the National Anthem.

After the victory game the annual Homecoming Dance was held in the new high school gym. Music was provided by the "Rod Laine" Orchestra.

New Benefits To Be Sent Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first Social Security checks for certain qualified persons 72 years and older who have not previously been eligible for such benefits will be delivered about Nov. 3.

The Social Security Administration said Friday about 370,000 persons are eligible for these special benefits.

The coverage was provided by what is known as the Prouty Amendment, voted by Congress last spring in Taft legislation. The final version was a compromise of a proposal by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt.

The special benefit will be $35 a month for an individual and $52.50 a month for a married couple.

There are complex requirements to qualify, a Social Security spokesman said.

Basically, however, persons not covered by Social Security may qualify but there must be deductions from their benefits of any amounts received from a public retirement system — federal, state or local.

ADC Payments Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Average payments per person in Ohio's Aid to Dependent Children program increased from $31.08 to $33.27 in the July-September quarter, State Welfare Director Denver L. White reported Thursday.

Stoutsville Voters OK Consolidation

Residents in Clearcreek Twp. and the village of Stoutsville voted to consolidate with Logan Elm when the school district was formed, it was pointed out today by Paul Keller of Stoutsville.

A story in Friday's Herald concerning a proposed realignment of the Amanda-Clearcreek and Logan Elm Districts erroneously said the residents voted against consolidation.

According to Keller, the consolidation passed by about 125 votes. In addition, Clearcreek residents circulated petitions which contained signatures of more than 90 per cent of the residents from a point just west of Route 159 of the Pickaway County line.

However, because of a technicality in the wording of the ballot, the State Supreme Court ruled the vote illegal.

Keller said numerous Clearcreek area residents would still like to be transferred to the Logan Elm District. But he pointed out the rest of the Amanda-Clearcreek District probably would not.

A proposed consolidation of the two districts came as a result of a recently completed survey conducted by the state department of education.

Senior Ann Spicer Reigns At Homecoming Festivities

Crowning of the 1966 Circleville High School homecoming queen took place Friday during the football clash between the Tigers and the Miami Trace Panthers.

Named queen was Ann Spicer, a CHS senior. She was crowned by Mike Woodward, president of the senior class and escorted onto the field by Mike Hulse, vice president of the Key Club.

Senior attendant was Jeannie Allen. Her escort was Fritz Jacobs Jr., president of the Hi-Y Club. Melissa Willoughby, escorted by Tom Evans, Key Club president, was chosen as junior attendant.

Sue Aller was picked as sophomore attendant. Her escort was Tom Tootle, vice president of Hi-Y.

BEFORE the tilt began the CHS marching band took the field to present their program. They strutted out with a show of such Latin-American favorites as "The Mexican Hat Dance," "La Cucaracha," and "Cha, Cha, Cha" with accompanying dance steps.

The percussion section and majorettes added flair to the music with timbali, bongo and congo drums, castanets and temple blocks.

The band then went into the modern world of Latin-America with "Brasilia."

Following the show the band formed the CHS monogram, playing the "Red and Black" before being joined by the Miami Trace band for the National Anthem.

After the victory game the annual Homecoming Dance was held in the new high school gym. Music was provided by the "Rod Laine" Orchestra.

New Benefits To Be Sent Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first Social Security checks for certain qualified persons 72 years and older who have not previously been eligible for such benefits will be delivered about Nov. 3.

The Social Security Administration said Friday about 370,000 persons are eligible for these special benefits.

The coverage was provided by what is known as the Prouty Amendment, voted by Congress last spring in Taft legislation. The final version was a compromise of a proposal by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt.

The special benefit will be $35 a month for an individual and $52.50 a month for a married couple.

There are complex requirements to qualify, a Social Security spokesman said. Basically, however, persons not covered by Social Security may qualify but there must be deductions from their benefits of any amounts received from a public retirement system — federal, state or local.

ADC Payments Up
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Average payments per person in Ohio's Aid to Dependent Children program increased from $31.08 to $33.27 in the July-September quarter, State Welfare Director Denver L. White reported Thursday.

Toastmasters Organize Local Unit

The Circleville Toastmaster Club will hold its first dinner meeting 6 p. m. Thursday at the L-K Restaurant.

The program theme at the first meeting will be "What Is Toastmastering All About?"

Speakers and honored guests will include Rollo Dawson, district governor from Dayton; Carl Harrington, area governor from Columbus; Mark Emerson, assistant area governor from Columbus; David Willingham, president of the Columbus AGOISSI Toastmasters Club; Jim Cole, president of the Columbus Battelle Toastmasters Club; and Jack Clifford, first place winner of the area humorous speech contest.

Future club meetings will be held each second and fourth Thursday at the L-K Restaurant. Membership is open to men over 18 years of age who seek to improve their speaking ability. This training is given through a basic training course, an advanced training course, and a leadership course.

The club has one common purpose: to develop the communication most important asset — its people. Future activities will include a community youth program and the Circleville speakers bureau.

Those interested in becoming members and attending the first meeting call Bill Kirkpatrick, 474-4729, before Tuesday for further information and dinner reservations.

Kent State Student Pledges Sorority

Marlene Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Brown, 138 1/2 E. High St., has been pledged to Alpha Chi Omega social sorority at Kent State University, Kent, O.

Miss Brown, a graduate of Circleville High School, is beginning her sophomore year and enrolled in the College of Education.

FIREMAN AND FRIEND — Circleville Fire Lt. Mike Brown and "Smoky the Bear" caught the eye of passersby in the downtown area today. The pair of "firemen" and the city's new aerial ladder wagon were stationed at Court and Main Sts. today in observance of National Fire Prevention Week. Firemen, taking turns at the downtown posts, also distributed home fire safety check lists to shoppers. The observance is a joint effort of the Fire Department and Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce.

U.S. Strikes

(Continued from Page One) two-man crew. Both fliers were reported missing. The loss was the 35th U.S. plane to go down over North Viet Nam since the air war started in August 1964.

The U.S. Command also reported an Air Force B57 Canberra bomber was shot down while on a strike mission in South Viet Nam today, the 128th plane loss of the war in the south. Both fliers aboard the Canberra bailed out and were rescued 15 miles northeast of Da Nang.

In raids over North Viet Nam Friday, U.S. Air Force pilots hit the same stretch of Route 191 north of Dien Bien Phu that they hit the day before. Pilots reported damaging seven trucks and a road grader, setting off fires and explosions in a storage area, and causing a landslide of a section of road which dropped into a gorge.

Navy pilots from the aircraft carriers Oriskany, Intrepid and Coral Sea reported destroying or damaging 56 coastal and inland cargo barges.

Overall, U.S. pilots claimed destroying or damaging 14 bridges, 12 supply and storage buildings, 20 boxcars and a locomotive, 15 trucks and two anti-aircraft gun sites.

Inez Catches

He said 10 persons scrambled aboard the raft after La Esperanza overturned. Eight were washed overboard.

"We tried to help each other on the raft," he said. "But we kept getting seasick. One by one, they slipped away."

Gonzalez said he doesn't know what happened to those who didn't make it aboard the raft. "I saw some people climbing onto the boat's bottom and saw others in the water."

A 24-foot boat matching the description of La Esperanza was discovered by a cabin cruiser Friday about 24 miles east of Miami. The Coast Guard, which towed the capsized vessel to port, said nobody was aboard.

The hunt today concentrated on a section from Fort Pierce, on the east coast, to the Marquesas Keys, 300 miles to the south, 12,000 square miles of water.
